Taft Cancels Vermont Tour To Fight Stassen's Ohio Bid

Senator Prepares For Fight

Nebraska Loss Alters Plans

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) today cancelled a speaking trip to Vermont to devote more time to his Ohio primary campaign where he has been challenged by Harold E. Stassen.

Taft, whose presidential hopes took a drubbing in the Nebraska primary Tuesday, plans to spend most of his time in his home state between now and the Ohio primary May 4. He was preparing to fly to Cleveland today.

He had planned to spend the week end of April 24-25 in Vermont, speaking at Middlebury college and at two or three towns in that state. It was that trip which was cancelled today.

Taft told reporters he was abandoning the Vermont trip because, counting time spent in transportation, it would consume about three days which he could otherwise devote to his Ohio campaign.

He will return to Ohio next Wednesday and remain there until after the primary, except for April 26, when he will be in Washington.

PLANS BUSY SCHEDULE

Taft said his Ohio schedule would take him into seven congressional districts, in all of which Stassen forces have entered candidates for delegates to the Republican National convention.

Stassen backers have entered only one candidate for nine delegate-at-large seats. For that reason, Taft supporters contended the Ohio primary could not be a fair test of the candidates' drawing power in the state. They figured it would be much easier to elect one delegate than a full slate.

Stassen entered the Ohio primary over Taft's protest and thus startled some Republicans, who believed the move would arouse resentment among organization regulars.

In his statement Wednesday expressing disappointment over the outcome of the Nebraska primary, Taft promised that his return engagement with Stassen in Ohio "will produce the opposite result."

Taft's Ohio schedule calls for only one speech outside the contested districts. He will speak in his home town of Cincinnati May 3.

Dewey Denies 'Deal' Rumor

ALBANY, N. Y. — (INS) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has denied reports of an existing or contemplated "deal" between himself and Sen. Robert A. Taft with respect to the 1948 Republican presidential nomination.

The New York governor, resting at his Pawling farm preliminary to a planned coast-to-coast drive for delegates, took time out to label "untrue" reports that he met recently with Sen. Taft to discuss the situation.

Gravel Slide Kills Pastor

MT. VERNON —(AP)— The Rev. Kenneth Miller, 32, who also worked as a truck driver, suffocated today in an avalanche of gravel.

The accident occurred at the Killbuck Sand and Gravel company pit near Brinkhaven, 12 miles east of here.

Mr. Miller, a minister of the Church of Christ, lived at nearby Danville.

Everett Purdy, 34, was buried up to his chest, but was dug out by a fellow worker.

Opponent Launches Drive

YOUNGSTOWN — (AP) — Stassen-for-President campaigners looked for a local rise today in their candidate's newly booming stock following his 10-hour stint of speech-making and handshaking here.

Harold E. Stassen keynoted nearby Hiram college's mock convention Thursday morning then took off on a race-horse schedule that included speeches to three audiences, a reception and a pair of radio talks.

After shaking hands with several hundred of the 2,200 persons who heard him at Stambaugh auditorium, he left by plane last night for Washington.

Next Wednesday Stassen returns to Ohio to start what he called the "principal effort" of his quest to elect 23 of Ohio's 53 delegates to the Republican national convention

He will buck favorite son Robert A. Taft, senator from Cincinnati, during a four-day tour with stops at Dayton, Middletown, Hamilton, Toledo, Akron, Alliance, Canton and Cleveland.

MANAGER JUBILANT

The size and response of the former Minnesota governor's audiences led his Ohio campaign manager, Earl Hart, to claim jubilantly: "We will win the two delegates down here, sure as shooting."

Stassen himself said he was "not ready" to make a prediction on the Ohio outcome.

He told a news conference he entered delegates to "test the issues rather than take over the state Republican organization" and had "picked the districts where we could organize most rapidly."

Stassen's bid to split the Buckeye delegation drew a barb at the Hiram college convention from the spokesman for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, whom the students elected over Stassen on the fourth ballot 224-206. Taft ran a weak fourth behind Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

In his speeches here Stassen maintained a "bright hope for peace" lay in "true liberalism" as contrasted with appeasement or the opposite extreme of regarding World War III as inevitable and turning the nation into "an armed camp."

Strike Ends In Colombia

BOTOGA, Colombia — (AP) — The Colombian Workers Confederation proclaimed the end today of a general strike and the government moved to clean up wreckage from last week's bloody uprising.

The nation-wide strike accompanied the revolt, which caused some 300 deaths. Both were touched off by the assassination Friday of Liberal Party Leader Jorge Eliecer Gaitan.

A confederation spokesman said the union chiefs met yesterday with Liberal party leaders and agreed to give full support to Dario Echandia, a Liberal, who was taken into Conservative President Mariano Ospina Perez's cabinet as minister of government interior).

(The U. S. state department said it has unconfirmed reports there were serious oil refinery fires Wednesday in Colombia's Baranca-Bermeja fields. There are a number of United States citizens and American interests there.)

Baby Attacked By Sewer Rat

CINCINNATI —(INS)— A flood-maddened rat, apparently driven from its sewer home by rising waters, crawled into the bed of five-months-old David Linville and bit the child seriously today.

The child was taken to Cincinnati General hospital for treatment.

SHORTENING UP AGAIN

CINCINNATI — (INS) — The wholesale price of Crisco, vegetable shortening, went up two cents today.

Firemen Rescue Man, 92

Lucas Resident Escapes Death

LUCAS — Quick action by Lucas volunteer firemen yesterday saved 92-year-old feeble Howard Rummel from a fiery death.

Firemen carried the semi-invalid and almost blind man unconscious from his downstairs apartment.

The fire broke out less than two hours after his daughter, Mrs. Mae Cole, proprietor of the Cole market, had returned to the store after visiting her father.

Mrs. William Query, tenant of an upstairs apartment, smelled smoke and sounded the alarm at 4:05 p. m.

Firemen also carried to safety Rummel's pet dog but the animal had not recovered consciousness today, nearly 20 hours after its rescue.

The fire originated in a short circuit in the refrigerator. Flames charred the kitchen and smoke damaged the rest of the house. Mrs. Cole estimated the loss at several hundred dollars.

Lucas firemen were on the go again this morning when almost simultaneous alarms were sounded for grass fires at opposite ends of town. One was at the west end of town near the Pennsylvania tower and the other at the Minta Rummel farm.

Lutz Wins Bills Row

Must Be Supplied, Architect Learns

Another stumbling block on the path toward construction of a new tuberculosis sanatorium apparently was being pushed out of the way today.

"Bills of material," consisting of an itemized list of the building materials that will go into the hospital, will be completed tonight.

That's the word from Architect Herbert S. Jones, who said he contacted Columbus and learned that "bills of materials" must be made up in the construction of public institutions.

The fact that there were no "bills of material" made up in the proper form kept the TB building commission from readvertising for contract bids Tuesday.

County Prosecutor Theodore Lutz had insisted they must be supplied; Jones had disputed the point.

Dr. John S. Hattery, commission chairman, said he would call a meeting of the commission as soon as Lutz approves the "bills of material."

Gen. Coxey Still Active

MASSILLON —(AP)— "General" Jacob Sechler Coxey was 94 today and GI's of the late war said, "General who?"

The leader of 20,000 ragged men who marched to Washington to demand work building good roads 54 years ago April 29 observed his birthday by keeping up his campaign for non-interest bonds and money at cost.

Still able to climb a steep flight of stairs without blowing, the "general" announced:

"I'm going to live to be at least a hundred years old, and before that birthday comes around my money program for this country as well as my proposal for handling international currency problems will have been adopted."

Agreement Ends Financial Strike

NEW YORK — (INS) — Francis Adams Truslow, president of the New York curb exchange announced today that the exchange board of governors had ratified the terms of the agreement ending the 18-day-old strike of financial employes.

The United Financial Employes union, AFL had approved the accord late yesterday.

'Wheelbarrow Express' Arrives

Letter From Arizona Ends Year's Travels

By DWYER CLAY

Larry Hightower, 47, pushing his "Wheelbarrow Express," arrived in Mansfield at 6:30 p. m. yesterday to deliver a letter to Mrs. Robert E. Massa, 108 Dawson avenue.

The letter was given to him by Mrs. Massa's father, E. C. Polen, in Tucson, Ariz., on April 13, 1947, and took one year and two days for delivery.

Hightower, who hopes to push his wheelbarrow around the world, spent today at the Legion Home on Park avenue west. He will leave at 6 p. m. for Columbus. There he intends to visit Governor Herbert; to add his signature to those of hundreds of notables in his log book.

He has pushed his "Wheelbarrow Express" 6,583 miles, covering 13 states, Canada and Old Mexico. He expects his entire trip to take 12 years.

He hopes to visit every country in Europe except Russia, lecturing en route on Americanism and against Communism.

He calls himself a "disciple of Americanism."

IDEA FROM AIRPLANE

"I first got the idea," he explained, "from a calendar picturing an airplane circling the globe. I decided that I could do the same using food for fuel instead of gasoline."

He already has worn out 12 pairs of shoes, 678 pairs of socks and 33 pairs of gloves. He says he has lectured to students in 207 schools and colleges.

His wheelbarrow, with a 33-pound lift, is equipped with radio, generator, tail light and two headlights. It carries all his personal articles, a tool-kit and a fluorescent coat with illuminated collar and sleeves for night traveling.

Hightower's thumb-prints are well impressed in the handle bars. The wheelbarrow also carries four flags, including one bearing the seal of the state of Washington.

Believe it or not, he was given a ticket for reckless driving in Barberton, Ohio, but Mayor Parker of that city was persuaded "to fix the ticket."

Effect Truce In Slowdown

A truce was effected today in a month-long slowdown in the enameling department of the Westinghouse Electric corporation, Joseph Hawkins, president of Local 711, United Electrical Workers, reported.

Hawkins said the slowdown began when company officials proposed a change in wage rates for some operations in the metal fabricating department. He asserted the change would have affected each worker to the extent of about $10 a week.

Company officials yesterday at a meeting requested that the negotiations "go national" and union officials agreed, Hawkins said

Representatives will be sent to Pittsburgh to negotiate on the required schedule time, he said.

Fountain's Squirt Brings Fire Call

ATLANTA—(AP)—A misdirected drink of water brought out every piece of firefighting equipment in downtown Atlanta last night, and threw almost everyone into a dither at Grady hospital.

Later investigation revealed that an ambulance driver, bending over a drinking fountain, got his drink in the eye instead of his mouth, reached for a towel, but pulled a fire alarm box instead.

NEW HOSPITAL PLANNED

CLEVELAND—(INS)— Construction of a new women's hospital costing $900,000 will begin in Cleveland in the near future

Love Drug Murder Revealed

Police Bare Youth's Story

MEDINA — (INS) — Nineteen-year-old Clark Hill of Medina Center, admitted "love potion" killer of pretty Jeannette Weimer, 17, was to be charged with first-degree murder today in Medina.

Hill broke down yesterday in the face of evidence submitted by Cuyahoga County Coroner Samuel R. Gerber that the girl had died from carbon monoxide poisoning and signed a lengthy statement in which he admitted running a hose from the exhaust into his car.

Medina County Prosecutor William G. Batchelder jr., who obtained the written statement from Hill, said the handsome, former Ohio State university student admitted the murder when tests proved that he had intimacies with the girl.

Batchelder said that Hill stated that he had known Miss Weimer for only three weeks and that he had dated her three nights in a row before taking her out last Friday. Hill said he was not satisfied with the Thursday night meeting and got the idea of giving the former car-hop a "love potion."

He said that after the two attended a movie at nearby Lodi, they went to a restaurant and ordered milk shakes. Hill continued that when the girl's attention was diverted, he shook the aphrodisiac into her drink.

GIRL 'PASSED OUT'

The two then drove to a country lane where they engaged in further intimacies. Hill added that the girl "passed out" after their relations and fearful that she would "tell on" him, he connected a hose from the exhaust into the car.

After staying away about an hour, Hill stated that he returned and shut off the motor. He said he felt Miss Weimer's pulse and said that she felt cooler than a normal person.

According to Batchelder, Hill then stayed in the car beside the dead girl for 15 hours in the hope that it would appear to passers-by that he, too, had been overcome by carbon monoxide.

Lower Ohio Still Rising

CINCINNATI —(AP)— A heavy flow of water forced flood watchers to raise their sights today on expected top stages of the Ohio river from Huntington, W. Va. down.

At Portsmouth, O., 356 miles below Pittsburgh, the river reached a depth of 62.5 feet, the previously forecast crest, at 7 a. m. today and headed for an expected 63.7 by midnight.

Ironton was safe behind a floodwall, but neighboring villages, isolated by the flood waters, were getting food by boat for families staying in their homes.

Gallipolis, 55 miles still further upstream, reported 58.8 feet with water edging into the business section. Flood stage there is 50 feet.

The river had crested at Pomeroy, 23 miles from Gallipolis but above the mouth of the Kanawha. The stage was 57, seven above flood

The Ohio was falling in the 172 miles from Pittsburgh to Marietta At Marietta a crest of just over 47 feet, 11 above flood stage, was reached at 11 p. m last night and the morning stage was just under 47.

The business section, now under one to six feet of water, was expected to be clear by Sunday.

Delegates Unpledged

NASHVILLE, Tenn —(AP)— Tennessee Democratic delegates will go to the national convention in Philadelphia free to cast the state's 28 ballots as they choose. But they must vote as a unit. The state convention yesterday rejected a strong anti-Truman resolution.

Hedy Hoping To Win Suit By a Nose

SANTA MONICA, Calif.—(AP) —Hedy Lamarr doesn't like the look she says Look magazine gave her.

She dislikes it so much she filed suit for $200,000 yesterday against the magaziane, alleging that a Look article in the April 13 issue made it appear she had her nose altered by plastic surgery.

The suit said the magazine used two photographs of the actress as "before and after" examples of nasal plastic surgery.

This, declared Hedy's complaint, was untrue. The actress' counsel added: "It is a positive fact that her features have been unaltered and have remained in their natural state since her birth."

Japanese War Crimes Trials End

Decisions Await Study By Judges

TOKYO—(INS)—The Tokyo war crimes trials of 25 former Japanese leaders ended today.

Sir William Webb, Australian president of the Allied Far East tribunal, brought history's longest trial to an end after 23 months and 16 days of testimony.

Japan's "Pearl Harbor premier" Hideki Tojo and his 24 co-defendants smiled with relief. They appeared healthy but looked tired and unnerved.

The 11-nation tribunal made no announcement regarding the date when a verdict might be expected, but observers believed the next session of the court would be summoned early in June.

The eleven judges, retiring to deliberate their decision which probably will mean death to at least some of the former Japanese war leaders, had a voluminous record to scrutinize.

The 50,000-page transcript includes more than 10,000,000 words of testimony.

It is estimated the trial cost $10,000 for each day the court was in session—an approximate total of $14,190,000.

Pheasant Smashes Bus Windshield

A pheasant was struck by a car and then crashed through the windshield of a Flying Cloud bus near Millersburg late yesterday. The dead bird landed in the lap of the driver.

Glass was scattered over the driver, Ralph Hoover, Mansfield, and passengers in the front seats, but no one was reported injured.

The bird was struck by a car as the auto was meeting the bus and then thrown into the path of the bus, Hoover said. The bus was carrying several passengers when the mishap occurred about 5:30 p. m., between Millersburg and Nashville. The bus line operates between Mansfield and Millersburg.

Death Victim Unidentified

HAMILTON — (INS) — Police attempts to identify a man found murdered on a lonely road about three miles from Hamilton shifted to Cincinnati today.

Authorities of the neighboring county reported they found an abandoned auto near Cincinnati with blood stains and human hair in the trunk. The car bore license plates issued in Scott county, Kentucky. The only clue to the murder victim's identity was a blank check from a bank in Georgetown, Ky., the Scott county seat.

More than a hundred people viewed the battered body without any further indication of the victim's identity. The man apparently had been bludgeoned to death.

Nations Sign Paris Charter

PARIS—(AP)—Western Europe formally bound itself today to stand united in order to avoid falling divided into deeper poverty and war.

It did so in a 3,000-word charter signed in Paris. The charter created a "European organization of economic cooperation."

This organization is designed to assure efficient use of the $5,300,000,000 the United States has pledged in the European recovery program (ERP).

GM Will Cut Down Output

Steel Supplies Low, Says Firm

DETROIT — (UP) — General Motors corporation announced today that it will close all its automobile fabricating plants, idling 200,000 workers, by April 23 because of the effects of the coal strike.

GM said it was running out of pig iron and steel supplies as a result of the coal strike but that its automotive assembly plants would remain in operation "as long as available material permits."

In a statement the corporation said that the foundries, machine shops and press rooms in all automotive divisions will be closed by the night of April 28.

"It is hoped that receipts of material will permit the resumption of operations in these fabricating plants by May 1," GM said.

SUPPLIES CURTAILED

GM said that some production already had been curtailed in the restriction of metal supplies that also was expected to hit other auto manufacturers in the near future.

GM, however, was the first large producer to be forced to an actual shutdown. Automotive production remained steady during the coal walkout but was expected to fall off when the full impact of restricted steel output is felt, probably next month.

The huge corporation has 100 plants in the country, including non-automotive, and GM said most of them would be affected.

GM has been producing 33,000 cars a week in its Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac divisions, as well as 8,000 Chevrolet and GMC trucks.

Wrong Pill Dose Taken

James Roosevelt's Wife in Hospital

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — (AP) —Taking the wrong pills from a bedside box in the early morning darkness sent Mrs. James Roosevelt to a hospital today for treatment for an overdose of sleeping pills, her physician reported.

Her condition was described as "good" several hours later.

Dr. Blake Watson, family doctor for the wife of the late President's eldest son, gave this account:

He said Mrs. Roosevelt, 32, awoke about 5 a. m. with a cold and a headache, reached for a box of pills on a bedside stand which she thought were headache tablets. Instead, she swallowed several sleeping pills. She quickly awakened her husband, who called police. She was rushed to an emergency hospital, then to St. John's hospital in nearby Santa Monica.

Roosevelt, state Democratic chairman, was with her at the hospital but could not be reached for comment.

The police said Roosevelt told them his wife, the former Romelle Theresa Schneider, a native of Independence, Wis., had been suffering from insomnia since the birth of their third child three months ago.

The baby, a daughter named Anna Eleanor, was born Jan. 10. The Roosevelts also have two sons, James, two, and Michael, 16 months.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who was a nurse, cared for Roosevelt when he was ill at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., then came to California with him during his convalescence. They were married in April, 1941.

Mansfielder Accused By Woman

Blamed In Florida Money Belt Theft

One dollar bill looks just about like another—a fact which had Miami, Fla., police in something of a stew today with a Mansfield man in the middle.

The Mansfielder, identified as Stephen S. Enoff, 53-year-old laborer, said he won $10,000 betting on dogs. Mrs. Julia Grech of New York City has another story—she said Enoff absconded with the money when she asked him to hold her money belt while she went swimming March 28 in Miami.

Police and the courts have to decide whose money it is.

Mrs. Grech said the money was her janitor-husband's life savings.

Detective Supt. Charles W. Pierce quoted the Mansfielder as saying: "If she says it's hers, let her prove it. I won it at the dog races."

Enoff was booked for investigation and vagrancy and will be tried in Miami city court Monday.

Pierce said detectives found money in various safety deposit boxes and bank accounts in Miami, $1,004 on Enoff. They also seized a 1939 automobile Enoff said he had bought recently.

Mansfield police records show that a man, listed as "Steve Enoff," was arrested by police here on Feb. 12, 1935, for assault and battery. The case was dismissed.

Grain Market

MANSFIELD GRAIN

The following prices are being paid to farmers by Honegger-Hanley Mills, Inc. and Lantz Milling Co.

Wheat: No. 2 red, $2.47.
Corn: No. 2 yellow, $2.10.
Oats: No. 2, 32 pounds, $1.10.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Grains pushed higher in active dealings on the Board of Trade today. Strength in other markets, small supplies of feed grains at terminal markets, and lack of moisture over night in the winter wheat belt combined to encourage buying.

Wheat opened ¾-1¼ cents higher, May $2.52¾-2.53; corn was ½-⅝c higher, May $2.33¼-⅜, and oats were ⅜-⅞c higher, May $1.19¼-½.

ORDINANCE NO. 48-97

By Mr. Shultz:

Repealing Ordinance No. 48-68, passed April 6, 1948, and authorizing and directing the Clerk of Council to advertise for bids on the purchase of One Million, Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,200,000) Second Mortgage Waterwork Revenue Bonds, to be issued by the City of Mansfield; and appropriating for the expense thereof the sum of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) from the Water fund, and declaring an emergency.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MANSFIELD, STATE OF OHIO:

Section 1. That Ordinance No. 48-68, passed April 6, 1948, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Section 2. That the Clerk of Council be and he hereby is authorized and directed to advertise for bids on the purchase of One Million, Two Hundred Thousand Dollars ($1,200,000) Second Mortgage Waterworks Revenue Bonds, to be issued by the City of Mansfield. Said publication shall be made in the Mansfield News-Journal and shall be by three insertion on the same day in each of three weeks.

Section 3. Copy of said publication shall be as follows:

LEGAL NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Clerk of Council of the City of Mansfield, Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon Eastern Standard Time on the 4th day of May, 1948, (at which time they will be publicly opened and read) for the purchase of $1,200,000 Second Mortgage Waterworks Revenue Bonds of the City of Mansfield, Ohio, dated June 1st, 1948. Said bonds shall be in the denomination of one thousand dollars each, shall be numbered from 1 to 1200, inclusive, and will bear interest at such rate or rates as named by the successful bidder and shall be payable semi-annually on the first day of April and October of each year and said bonds shall mature as follows:

$36,000	April 1,	1949

48,000	October 1,	1960
49,000	October 1,	1961
56,000	October 1,	1962

All bonds of this issue maturing in the years 1959 to 1962 are callable as a whole or in part in their inverse numerical order on October 1, 1958 or on any interest payment date thereafter at Par and accrued interest. Both principal and interest of said bonds will be payable at the office of a Mansfield Bank, Mansfield, Ohio. Said bonds are being issued to provide funds for improvements and extensions to the municipal waterworks system under authority of Article XVIII, Section 12 of the Ohio Constitution and an ordinance of the City Council and are not general obligations of the City of Mansfield, Ohio, but are payable solely from the revenues of the waterworks system after provision for debt service on the presently outstanding First Mortgage Waterworks Revenue Bonds and operation and maintenance costs, and are secured by an open-end mortgage conditioned that the city may under same lien from time to time issue additional bonds for extensions and improvements when average net revenues of utility for the three fiscal years immediately preceding the year in which any such additional bonds are to be issued are equivalent to 150 per cent of interest and principal requirements on all revenue bonds then outstanding and proposed on the waterworks system properties subject only to a first mortgage on said properties securing the presently outstanding $1,027,000 First Mortgage Waterworks Revenue Bonds of the City.

Bidders shall name the rate or rates of interest, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid such fraction shall be one-quarter of one per cent or multiples thereof.

All bids must be for the entire issue, must state the gross amount of the bid and accrued interest to date of delivery and be accompanied with a bond or certified check payable to the City of Mansfield, Ohio in the amount of $12,000.00, subject to the condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds within 30 days from the time of the award, said bond to be forfeited or said check to be retained by the City if said condition is not fulfilled.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder for not less than the par value and accrued interest to the date of delivery.

Bids should be sealed and endorsed "Bid for $1,200,000 City of Mansfield, Ohio Second Mortgage Waterworks Revenue Bonds."

Charles J. Stecker
Clerk of Council
City of Mansfield, Ohio

Section 4. That in order to supplement the annual appropriation bill for the year ending December 31, 1948, and to provide for the expense for said publication the sum of $100 is hereby appropriated from the Water Fund; and the City Auditor is hereby authorized to draw his warrant on the City Treasurer upon presentation of properly approved vouchers therefor.

Section 5. That this Ordinance shall be declared an emergency measure for the immediate preservation of the public health, safety and welfare of the City of Mansfield and as such same shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.

Passed April 13, 1948.
Signed: PAUL W. BUSH, President of Council.
Approved: ROY W. VAUGHN, Mayor.
Attest: CHARLES J. STECKER, Clerk of Council.

Holds Petitions On Annexation

Edward Schmitt, 1165 Lexington avenue, said yesterday that South Boulevards residents interested in signing the petition for the annexation of the village to Mansfield may call at his home to affix their signatures.

The village council gave the annexation proposal its blessing Wednesday when councilmen signed the petitions. Only legal voters are entitled to sign the petition. If a majority of the voters sign, it will be presented to the Mansfield city council.

Council has a right to accept or reject the annexation request.

ALICE
I'll come back, but only on one condition. Those rugs and upholstered furniture will have to be kept clean—ush! And listen, sweetheart, you'll be surprised how easily it can be done with Mystic Foam. I saw a Mystic Foam demonstration yesterday in O'Neil's, Housewares Dept., and boy, or boy! I'm bringing some with me. Be seeing you, honey, but no rollin' pin. JOE

ONE GALLON of Mystic Foam cleans a 3-piece room suite and several small rugs. Doesn't soak through. Quick drying. Non-inflammable. At The H. L. Reed Co. Downstairs Store. Mail and phone orders accepted

The Story of Your Loss Is Written Where Finders Look

In News-Journal Lost Ads

The way to write a happy ending to the story of your loss is to change the story of your loss into a News-Journal Lost Ad. Two thousands of missing purses, wandering pups and mourned-for keepsakes by the recovered in recent years are ample proof that finders look for losers in the Lost Ads.

You may be lucky enough never to need them. But if and when you do, don't waste valuable time trying to find your lost property unaided. Assure a happy ending for your loss story by telling it to a News-Journal Ad-Taker at once. Call

GOLLY, MOTLEY! YOU MEAN YOU WANT CHAZZ AND ME TO SIT HERE WHILE YOU AND YOUR FATHER POKE AROUND THAT BAT'S NEST
YOU WILL DO IT— FOR ME, WON'T YOU, DARLING?

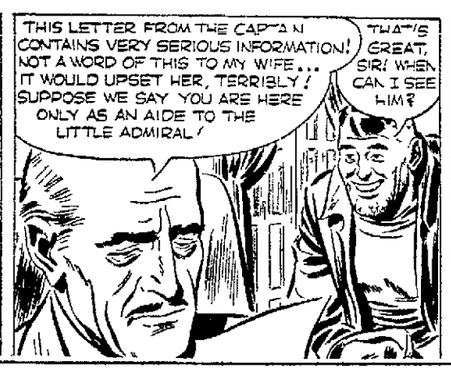
YOU MIGHT BE TAKING A BAD RISK, MOTLEY. THOSE OLD WALLS COULD BE SWARMING WITH ANYTHING FROM SNAKES TO BANDITS... THERE'S PROBABLY NO UNPOLLUTED WATER AND CERTAINLY NO FOOD..

GASOLINE ALLEY

THEY WON'T BELIEVE ME DOWN AT THE SHOP THAT WE ARE EXPECTING A BABY, JANICE.
WE DON'T CARE, DO WE, BIX?
YOU SEE, LAST TIME WHEN I HAD A SECRET AND A SURPRISE THAT'S WHAT THEY THOUGHT IT WAS
AND IT TURNED OUT TO BE OUR CAR! A GOOD JOKE
YES, BUT SARGE AND HACK BOUGHT BABY THINGS FOR US AND HAD TO TAKE THEM BACK.
WE WON'T ASK THEM TO BELIEVE ANYTHING THIS TIME UNTIL WE CAN PROVE IT.
WELL, IF NOBODY BELIEVES IT, IT'S STILL A SECRET.

RIP KIRBY

MCGEE, DOES ANYONE KNOW OF YOUR MISSION HERE, EXCEPT THE CAPTAIN?
NOT A SOUL, SIR. THERE WAS A GUY SNOOPIN' AROUND IN TUNIS, BUT I SHOOK HIM.... PLENTY!



THIS LETTER FROM THE CAPTAIN CONTAINS VERY SERIOUS INFORMATION! NOT A WORD OF THIS TO MY WIFE... IT WOULD UPSET HER, TERRIBLY! SUPPOSE WE SAY YOU ARE HERE ONLY AS AN AIDE TO THE LITTLE ADMIRAL!
THAT'S GREAT, SIR! WHEN CAN I SEE HIM?

PENNY

I JUST DON'T UNDERSTAND THE SIXTY YOU GAVE ME IN HISTORY.
THAT WAS YOUR AVERAGE THERE IS NO MISTAKE.
BUT YOU KEPT ME AFTER SCHOOL SEVERAL TIMES TO WORK ON HISTORY.
EVEN SO, YOU NEVER DID ANY BETTER THAN SIXTY, PENNY.
BUT, WEEPS, MISS BIRCH— DON'T YOU THINK....
I SHOULD GET TIME AND A HALF CREDIT FOR OVERTIME?

WE HAPPEN TO KNOW THAT SUPERMAN IS CLARK KENT!
MY WORD— A TALKING BENCH!
WE'RE NOT A BENCH! WE'RE OGIES!
OGIES? WELL—MY WORD! I CAN'T SEE A THING!
OF COURSE NOT. YOU CAN'T SEE OGIES. YOU CAN ONLY HEAR THEM!
AND WE SAW CLARK KENT CHANGE INTO SUPERMAN!
REALLY? WELL— NOBODY'LL EVER BELIEVE IT— EXCEPT ME. I OFTEN HEAR VOICES!
YOU DO?
OH DEAR— JUST OUR LUCK—HE'S A NUT!

Vice President Quirino Ready to Continue Roxas' Work

Philippines Mourn Death Of President

Body of Leader Taken to Palace

MANILA—(INS)—Vice President Elpidio Quirino was speeding to Manila today to assume leadership of the young Philippine republic grieving over the sudden death of its first president, Manuel Roxas.

The vice president cut short a tour of the provinces in the southern Philippines to return to the caiptal in order to take the oath as chief executive.

President Roxas' body, meanwhile, lay in state in the Malacanan presidential palace where large, silent crowds gathered for a final glimpse of the departed leader.

Escorted by a guard of honor, the body was brought to Manila aboard a train from the United States 13th Air Force base at Clark field where Roxas died late last night following a heart attack. The late president was 56.

His remains were borne into the palace at 9:15 o'clock this morning as the Philippine national flag flew at half staff throughout the capital city and the entire Archipelago.

To the president's mourning widow messages poured in from all parts of the world, expressing condolences and admiration for Roxas. Among those from whom messages were received were President Truman, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, China's President Chiang Kai-Shek, and Secretary of the Navy Sullivan.

High Philippine government officials were taking turns standing at vigil before the flower-laden bier where Roxas' body reposed in Malacanan palace.

There were no definite plans for the induction of the 57-year-old Quirino into the presidency.

Jury's 3-Day Task Wasted

BUCYRUS—After three days were taken up in selecting a jury to hear the damage action of the Buffalo Insurance company and others against the Texas company, Gulf Refining company and Egner and Son, Galion, the case was settled Thursday and dismissed.

Terms of the settlement were not made public. Plaintiffs asked $32,000 for claims paid as a result of an explosion and gasoline fire at Norwalk in June, 1944.

Cancer Fund Boxes Ready

BUCYRUS — Containers are being distributed through the business area today to be used for contributions to the 1948 cancer drive. The drive will end with a tag day Saturday.

James R. Kehrer, president of the Kiwanis club, is chairman for the Crawford county drive which has a quota of $6,000. The Bucyrus quota is $2,300.

Fifty per cent of the amount collected will stay in the county to be used for completing the cancer clinic at Galion city hospital.

Deaths In Area

Double Rites Monday For Fire Victims

BUTLER—A double funeral for Mrs. Blanche Oswalt, 22, and her son Harold, 2, of North Liberty, will be held Monday.

Mrs. Oswalt and Harold were killed Wednesday in a fire that destroyed their two-room frame cottage in North Liberty.

Services Monday at 2 p. m. in the Methodist church in Butler will be in charge of Rev. W. A. Hewitt of Sycamore, former pastor at the church here. Burial will be in Bunker Hill cemetery with the Snyder funeral home in charge.

AUGUST GIES

SHELBY—August Gies, 86, died Thursday afternoon in his home at 234 West Main street after a three-week illness. He was born June 6, 1862, in Peru, Ohio.

Surviving are his wife, Anna; four sons, John of New Washington, Joseph of Fostoria, Alphonse of North Auburn, and Aloysius of Plymouth; one daughter, Mrs. Joe Mingis of Shelby; eight grandchildren, and seven great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 9:30 a. m. in the Most Pure Heart of Mary church. Rev. McFadden will officiate. Burial will be in Mother of Sorrows cemetery in North Auburn under the direction of the Barkdull funeral home. Friends may call at the family home.

★

LOVENA M. PARKER

ASHLAND—Services will be held at the Heyl funeral home at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Lovena M. Parker of Murfreesboro, N. C. She died there Wednesday. Burial will be at West Salem.

Daughters of America and Royal Neighbors of which Mrs. Parker was a member, will have special services; the D. of A. during the rites at the funeral home and the Royal neighbors at the grave. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Mrs. Parker, former resident of Ashland and former employe of the Cresco Manufacturing company here, was a member of the Baptist church and Order of Eastern Star of Murfresboro.

★

WILLIAM J. WARNER

ASHLAND—Arrangements are being completed for services for William J. Warner, 55, of Miamisburg, R. D. 2, who died Sunday at Samaritan hospital. The body is at the Heyl funeral home pending final arrangements.

Mr. Warner, carpenter and painter, had been in Ashland only one week prior to his death. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Laura Warner of Hanover, Pa.; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Reese and Mrs. Anna Mummert, and two sons, Benjamin and Norman Warner, all of Hanover, Pa. He also leaves his mother of Hanover and three sisters and four brothers.

Heavy Rains Boost City Water Supply

Waterworks Supt. C. O. Kalbfleisch said today the heavy rains which have soaked the Mansfield area this spring have caused a water rise of 24 to 26 feet in the rock wells at Maxwell Springs.

At the same time no extra water was noticed in the gravel wells, the superintendent said. There are five rock wells at the pumping station and four gravel wells.

Mansfielder Fined $300 For Illegal Liquor Sale

Robert Ealey, 227 North Diamond street, was fined $300 and costs in municipal court today when he was found guilty of illegal sale of intoxicating liquor.

Ealey was arrested by state liquor agents early Sunday, April 5, after selling liquor to the agents who visited Bun's Place, 97 East Sixth street.

Agents testified that Ealey dispensed the liquor into "shot" glasses hidden under a towel and that change from a $5 bill given Ealey for the liquor was taken from Ealey's pocket.

Ealey, who pleaded innocent, said he didn't work at Bun's Place, that he never sold liquor there, and that he worked week ends as "doorman" at the Richland Post No. 72, American Legion, on North Diamond street.

Ealey was defended by Attorney George W. Biddle, who said the liquor agent held a gun on Ealey as he was making the arrest.

Biddle charged that Judge H. H. Schettler and Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch "conferred" during a recess in the hearing. Judge Schettler replied that he had "merely borrowed a cigaret."

CASE HELD OVER

Arrested with Ealey was Charles Drye, 97 East Sixth street, known as "Bun," charged with being the keeper of a place where intoxicating liquor was sold illegally. Hearing of Drye's case was continued to an afternoon session. State liquor agents testified that Drye holds no license to sell intoxicating liquor.

Also continued to the afternoon session was a hearing involving Herman Sells, 254 Park avenue east, charged with illegal sale of intoxicating liquors, keeper of a place where intoxicating liquors are sold illegally and possessor of an open flask.

Continued to next Thursday was the hearing against James W. Jones jr., 318 Miller street, charged with being in physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. Police arrested Jones early today on South Park street where they found him slumped over the wheel of his car.

Fined in court today were Orville W. Inscore, 35, Mansfield, R. D. 1, $15 and costs for unsafe operation, and Franklin P. King, Galion, $10 and costs for speeding. Both men pleaded guilty. Inscore was charged after his car damaged another auto on North Mulberry street last night, police said.

U. N. Urges Jews, Arabs To Reach Palestine Truce

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y. —(INS)—The special session of the United Nations general assembly opened today with appeals to Jews and Arabs to accept a truce in Palestine.

Speakers emphasized that a truce in the Holy Land was the only way to establish peace.

Dr. Jose Arce of Argentina, elected president on the first ballot by 31 out of 53 valid votes cast, immediately took the chair and called on the Jews and Arabs once more to reach agreement among themselves.

Arce added:

"The best program advanced by the assembly on Palestine will always be less important than any agreement the parties themselves might reach."

T. F. Tsiang of China was elected chairman of the basic political and security committee, which set a precedent as big five representatives have refrained so far from serving as presiding officers on assembly groups.

Carlos Muniz of Brazil called the assembly order and sounded the keynote promptly with a truce appeal to the two warring factions.

Ashland OPS Head Renamed

Joseph R. Halladay, head of the Ashland office of the Ohio Public Service company, was re-elected to the board of directors at the annual stockholders' meeting in Cleveland yesterday. He was re-elected a vice president at the board meeting.

Studies Purchase Of Flasher Lanterns

Mercury flasher lanterns were being considered today for purchase by the city street department by Street Superintendent E. W. Davis.

Guaranteed to burn for 100 hours, the flashers were described by Davis as "fine for emergency night work where men must be out on the job." The lanterns cost $15 each.

While carried upright, the mercury coil in the lantern flashes a red warning. If tipped the light goes out, thereby resting the battery.

Dance Scheduled By Mystic Club

A dance sponsored by directors of the Mystic club will be held tonight at the Masonic Temple with Nels Blocker's orchestra playing for the dancing. Tonight will be guest night.

The party will start at 9:30 p. m., and continue until midnight, officials said. Refreshments will be served. Tonight's dance is the extra event usually planned after the regular seasonal dances have been held, officials said, and gives everyone a chance to bring along guests.

Brunner to Head University Club

Martin Brunner was elected president of the University club last night at a meeting of the board of directors. He will succeed W. E. Slabaugh. Installation of new officers will not take place until the annual meeting in September.

Re-elected treasurer for the 19th successive year was Paul Eliot. Lloyd Brown was re-elected secretary for the sixth consecutive time.

Mayor to Attend Session In Canton

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said today he would attend a meeting of the Ohio Association of Cities in Canton April 22. The mayor recently was elected treasurer of the organization.

Speakers for the meeting will be Joseph H. Crowley, secretary of the association and finance director for the city of Cleveland, and Michael V. DiSalle, mayor of Toledo.

Plan Fails; Akron Buses Remain Idle

Company Objects To Contract Clause

AKRON —(AP)— Mass transportation still remained halted today after a last-minute disagreement dashed hopes for a quick end to the city's bus strike.

A plan raising fares and increasing service apparently had been accepted by the Akron Transportation company and city council.

But when the proposal was put in the form of a franchise amendment and brought before council last night for final approval, the ATC objected. It said a franchise-cancelling clause had not been in the previous plan.

"That one sentence in the franchise amendment would be the death sentence," ATC Counsel Ray G. Jeter said.

The clause would call for expiration of the present franchise —which has eight more years to run—on next Nov. 30. A new franchise effective Dec. 1 would be written on the basis of the Toledo service-at-cost plan.

Failure of council and the ATC to agree automatically cancelled a meeting scheduled between the company and representatives of some 575 striking drivers and mechanics.

The employes, members of the CIO Transport Workers union, have asked for a 30-cent hourly pay raise. The ATC contends it is unable to raise wages without increasing fares.

Bus service also has been halted in neighboring Barberton and Cuyahoga Falls by the 16-day dispute.

Mansfielders Guests of Club

GALION—A review of Tennessee Williams's play, "A Street Car Named Desire," was given by Mrs. Loren E. Beck, Galion dramatist, before Lambda chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, women's education sorority. Members of Delta chapter of Mansfield were guests.

The program followed a welcome by the president, Miss Kathryn Harris of Galion.

Several selections were sung by the Crestline high school boys' quartet composed of John Smarto, Don Gehrisch, Gene Gehrisch and Robert Sands, with Mrs. Lucille Pennington, the high school music director, at the piano.

Arrangements were made by the social committee, Mrs. Mary Stokly, Eloise Stevens, Arvilla Emmenegger, and Martha Vaughan.

Riders Plan Anniversary

GALION—Members of the Bit and Spur club of Mansfield will be special guests when the Buckeye Rangers hold their anniversary celebration at the Greenlawn on state route 30, April 25.

New officers of the equestrian group elected at this week's meeting are: Vernon Musgrave, president; Milo Brown, vice president; Betty VanHorn, secretary; Ruby Shook, treasurer, and trustees, Henry Egner and Alma Shumaker.

The meeting at IOOF hall was presided over by Miss Shumaker.

Tourist Club At Plymouth Elects

PLYMOUTH — Mrs. Helen Hoffman is the new president of the Tourist club. She was elected at the same time members chose Mrs. C. A. Hannum as vice president, and Miss Virginia Fenner as secretary-treasurer.

Plans were made for a guest night in June when Mrs. Golda Priest entertained the club at dinner in the Shelby Inn. The program and business meeting were held later at the home of Mrs. Belle Bachrach.

Man Fined For Permitting Children to Berate Neighbor

Edwin Noser, sr., 319 Newman street, was fined $25 and costs yesterday afternoon in juvenile court when he was found guilty of causing the delinquency of his four children by not keeping them from making disparaging remarks to a neighbor woman.

Noser, represented by Attorney William H. Calhoun, entered a plea of innocent. Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer suspended the fine on condition Noser exercise supervision of his children.

John David Ritchie, 41, of 217 North Weldon avenue, today was ordered to the county jail to serve out a suspended 60-day jail sentence.

Judge Cramer revoked the suspension when Ritchie failed to keep up support-payments for his son, as ordered in juvenile court on Aug. 8.

Two Shelby boys, 15 and 13, charged as habitual truants from school, were ordered to attend school regularly. Judge Cramer told them that for each half-day of school they missed, they would spend a day in the detention home.

They were ordered to stay away from each other and to be home at reasonable hours. The 15-year-old boy's mother was instructed to try to get him a job on a farm for the summer.

Patrol Halts Overloading

BUCYRUS—In a surprise move Thursday, state highway patrolmen staged a wholesale check on trucks for overloading, stopping approximately 200 vehicles at a highway barricade on Route 30N west of here.

Nine drivers with trucks found to be overweight were ordered to appear in mayor's court where one driver was fined $25 and two others $5 and costs.

Cases against three were dismissed and the other three forfeited $25 appearance bonds when they failed to show up.

One driver, carrying what he estimated was a $40,000 load of meat, was found to be overloaded 8,000 pounds and was ordered to unload that amount before continuing his trip.

Cub Pack Gets New Charter

A new charter for 1948 was presented to Cub Pack 4 by Harold Stauffer, cub commissioner, at the monthly meeting Thursday night at the Grace Episcopal church.

Paul Schiska, retiring cubmaster, presided and Warren Ullom, new cubmaster, was introduced. Michael Mecurio will be the new assistant cubmaster.

Jack Lehman, cub graduate, was welcomed to Scout Troop 6 by Paul Snyder, scoutmaster.

Advancement awards were presented to Tommy Mattox, Gordon Pataky, Charles Brenner, Dick DeHaven, Dick Tucker, Warren Ullom, Gale Kanz, George Woodman, Jack and Tom Nichols, Fred Willis, David Grassick, Robert Grassick, Keith McAllister, Bruce Campbell, Dick Ohler, Charles Geibert, Paul Christ, Kenneth Donelson and Michael Small.

Compromise Seen Likely In Park Plan

Millersburg Man On Subcommittee

COLUMBUS —(INS)—A compromise appeared in the making today as an eight-member subcommittee of the Ohio postwar program commission began the task of drafting bills to provide for a unified state parks division.

Previously, the commission's conservation committee was driving for a bill to unify all state conservation activities under an entirely new state department, to be headed by a director of cabinet rank.

The subcommittee was named at the conclusion of an all-day meeting to do two things:

1.—Draft a bill creating a division of parks (a "division," under the usual administrative set-up in the Ohio government, is usually subject to a "department,") and

2.—Draft a bill creating a coordinator of natural resources, and providing for an advisory board for the coordinator.

Chairman of the subcommittee is Raymond B. Howard, London publisher. Others are Clay H. Stackhouse, Wakeman; Ray M. White, Millersburg; J. Frank Atwood, Columbus; William Stinchcomb, Cleveland; Victor Jacobs, Dayton; Richard H. Woods, Cleveland, and R. L. Ireland, Cleveland.

City Promised Fair Week End

The weatherman had good news today for rain-weary Mansfielders.

Except for a hint of brief showers tonight, there isn't any rain in sight before Monday, the forecast said.

The forecaster said a cool mass of air was moving into Ohio from the northwest. Preceding it was just a threat of light, scattered showers.

The weather bureau's five-day outlook also was optimistic. The forecast follows:

Temperatures will average two to four degrees above normal during the period. Warmer Sunday and cooler Tuesday. Rain about Monday, with the total amount averaging between one-quarter and one-half inch.

Seniors Go To Columbus

Two Madison high school seniors, Herbert Eldridge and Edna Risler are in Columbus today attending the educational conference at Ohio State university for high school seniors who might be interested in teaching.

The two were selected by senior classmates and sent to Columbus with funds raised by class members. They were accompanied by Lewis Wendelmoot, industrial arts teacher at Madison high school who will attend an industrial arts conference at the university today and tomorrow.

The educational conference, according to Olan LaRue, superintendent, was set up by Ohio State university officials as a means of persuading members of this year's graduating classes throughout Ohio to enter the teaching profession.

The two seniors will make a report on the conference LaRue said.

Jobless Benefits Average $48,880 Weekly In March

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— An average 48,880 persons received unemployment benefit payments each week during March, a seven per cent jump over the average for February, the state bureau of unemployment compensation announced today.

Three out of every five benefit recipients were drawing compensation under the Ohio law, BUC Administrator Frank J. Collopy said.

This was a reversal of the situation a year ago when nearly three out of every five benefit recipients were veterans drawing readjustment allowances under the GI bill.

Initial claims, those filed by individuals beginning new periods of unemployment, totalled 35,109 last month, a one-fifth drop from the February figure. Collopy attributed the decline chiefly to improved weather conditions which ended gas-shortage lay-offs and increased employment in the construction industry.

The coal shortage was reflected in the Toledo and Bucyrus areas where there was a jump in the initial claims for readjustment allowances filed by veterans among railroad workers who were laid off.

The average weekly benefit check for total unemployment dropped slightly to $18.04, as compared to $18.06 in February.

UN Warned Starvation Threatens Holy Land

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(INS)—The United Nations was warned yesterday that starvation threatens the Holy Land a month hence unless immediate action is taken.

The warning was delivered by the Palestine commission on the eve of the general assembly. The five-man group issued the warning in a special report to the security council.

It came a few hours before the 11-nation body's meeting to seek a vote on a truce formula, calling on the Arabs and Jews for a complete military and political standstill.

The commission's special report on the food situation also was aimed at the general assembly and was specifically drawn to its attention in the memorandum describing the reasons for the group's inability to carry out partition.

The commission's report included a detailed study of the factors which govern the Palestine food supply. It told the Security Council the Holy Land "depends on imports for a large share of its essential food."

The report added

"If this flow of imports ceases, even for a short time, there will be immediate danger of widespread starvation.

"Without imports, Palestine would be deprived of half its present consumption of cereals, all its sugar, more than half its oils and fats and more than half its meat."

Stone-Like Surface Aid to Remodeling

If you are thinking about remodeling the exterior of your old frame, concrete or brick house, you can now have it re-coated with a beautiful stone-like surfacing

It is applied only by licensed applicators who are given course of training to apply and sculptor the stone-like surface It is made in a wide range of colors and is said to be moisture proof, fireproof and to give added insulation to your home.

Kitty Hawk 'Grounded' By Red Tape

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Red tape is delaying the start of the Kitty Hawk plane's last hop—from London to Washington.

Plans for returning the Wright brothers' first successful aircraft from England and enshrining it in the Smithsonian institution have been underway since mid-February. But final decisions await formal notification from the executors of Orville Wright's estate.

Meanwhile, Smithsonian officials are unwilling to discuss details of their program for welcoming the wood and fabric biplane.

They concede, however, that plans have been made to give the Kitty Hawk "the highest place of honor, which is its due."

That means the plane will be hung in the spot just inside the main entrance now occupied by the monoplane in which Charles A. Lindbergh flew from New York to Paris in 1927.

The Kitty Hawk was sent to the British National museum in 1928 because of a dispute between Orville Wright and the Smithsonian.

Leaves Argument Still Unsolved

NORTON CANES, Eng.—(AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Adams of this Staffordshire village was publicly proud that she never tasted intoxicants and credited her old age to abstinence. John Edwards, another villager, was just as proud that he was never ill and said "plenty of beer" kept him healthy. They died on the same day—Mrs. Adams 82, Edwards 79.

PAGE SIX MANSFIELD, OHIO FRIDAY, APRIL 16 1948

Thus far at least, on the national scene, there has been no admonition to avoid "changing horses in mid-stream."

According to a learned writer on the subject, "the real cause of obesity is over-eating"—and any day now it may be revealed that intoxication results from excessive drinking.

Mansfield Fortunate In Public Parks

MANY CITIES have chosen some particularly attractive feature on which to concentrate interest of its own people and attention of visitors. If some one thing were to be chosen for emphasis in Mansfield it might well be this city's park system, which was given a nice start in early days by gift of the Sherman-Heineman park, with later developments designed to conveniently serve residents of various parts of the city.

It is gratifying to learn that improvements costing $17,900 are to be made in Mansfield parks this season, according to plans outlined by Park Superintendent Frank Burton, and it may be anticipated—as heretofore—that considerable work will be done at each of the parks by unpaid volunteers interested in the further development of the park nearest their homes.

It is noteworthy that each of the neighborhood parks owes much to the contributed efforts of persons living in the immediate vicinity, with Johns, Liberty, Maple Lake, and John Todd parks as outstanding examples of the possibilities of individual and group efforts to provide such recreational centers.

What needs be more strongly stressed, it appears, is that everyone—children and adults alike—should be taught to take pride in the appearance of public parks and should, under no circumstances, damage or destroy any of the property therein. If the good behavior that marks the conduct of practically all park visitors can be extended to the few who commit acts of vandalism in these public places, the incentive to expend even greater efforts toward park development and beautification will be increased.

Some Hints To Hospital Visitors

A COMPLAINT that may be applicable in some other cities, as well as in Cleveland, was aired recently in Eleanor Clarage's column in the Plain Dealer. It came from a man who had been in a hospital ward for an operation and who recuperated in what he called "a smoke-filled room" in which he endured many headaches because visitors had been permitted to smoke while in the ward.

And then comes a complaint that justifies emphasis. "Needless to say," he continues, "it is very tiring for a sick person to have to entertain callers who do not have the sense to leave after five or ten minutes. (The family excepted, of course.) Why can't people realize that the best thing they can do for a sick friend is to send a 'get well' card and stay away from hospitals, but pay their visits after the patients are well on their way to recovery?"

To which Miss Clarage adds: "How about the jolly visitors who plunk themselves down on the bed of a pain-wracked patient? They WILL do it you know."

It seems that some well-intentioned people need instruction on the etiquette of visiting hospitalized friends—and that some such visits do the patient more harm than good, so make sure that your own hospital visiting isn't overdone—to the possible annoyance of the patient in whom you are interested.

Talk Useless Unless There's Action

SOMETIME, somehow, a subway—or something—will be constructed from the northwest to the west part of Mansfield, in order to eliminate the railroad hazards that now exist, and also to relieve the traffic strain on Bowman street, due to lack of a north-south highway further west.

Just now there is appearance of greater interest in such a project than has been evidenced for quite a number of years, and—as is always the case—an individual, or small group, must take the initiative in spreading an idea if there is any hope of carrying it to completion.

Practicability of the plan being presented by Marion Sackman, as mentioned in yesterday's News-Journal, must be left to engineering authorities, but it at least is worthy of investigation and consideration—with the hope that something tangible will finally come out of it.

Location of Mansfield's Senior high school, coupled with growth in the northwestern part of the city, argues strongly for such a connecting highway as is proposed, but the need includes many other factors which merit consideration by those who will be required to act if anything is to be accomplished.

Equalizing Educational Opportunities

FEDERAL support for struggling schools took a step nearer realization when the Senate passed a $300,000,000 appropriation by a vote of 58 to 22. One reason was Senator Taft's announcement that he now favored it. Four years ago he was against it. But he has come to realize that the children of all states are alike Americans, and that poor citizenship resulting from a faulty education has a country-wide effect.

Obstacles still remain in the way of the proposed appropriation. Some states may balk at helping their poorer neighbors. But Senator Ives of New York says that the richest states have enough poor areas to tax all the state's resources.

There are some business houses where the top executive's remark is probably true, "My job is to entertain visitors so that the assistants will not be interrupted while they are getting the work done."

Counterfeit one-hundred-dollar bills are said to be in circulation in Los Angeles—leading to suspicion that some of the Hollywood stage money has been passed out by mistake.

According to a Minneapolis scientist the "pushbutton age" is now almost out of date—even before it has arrived for some people.

More Bad Prophecies By New Dealers

THE INCURABLE power itch of many New Dealers who are still in office is shown in renewed demands for controls, allocations and the rest. This time, the excuse is the defense program. In November, it was a coming food shortage. The outcome of that shortage threat deserves to be recalled now, because the facts in April mock the predications of November.

We were told then, not only through official sources, but in privately operated Washington services, of a dire shortage of meat in the spring and, of course, of rocketing prices.

Now livestock prices are lower than they were after the discontinuation of the OPA and much lower than the black-market prices when controls still prevailed.

We were given a great scare last fall about grain shortages—a scare which sent prices up and which enriched many bull speculators. Now we know that we can expect more wheat than the President's food committee promised and still have a higher carry-over than is needed.

The cabinet food committee first proposed, in September, to export 470,000,000 bushels of grain, of which 400,000,000 bushels should be wheat. This goal was later increased by the Luckman committee by 100,000,000 bushels. The department of agriculture doubted whether this goal could be reached after Congress had stipulated that the carry-over on July 1 should be 150,000,000 bushels.

* * *

More Than Enough.

AT THIS time we have either exported, or have on hand for export, 540,000,000 bushels, of which 470,000,000 bushels are wheat. The remaining amount can easily be obtained without greatly disturbing prices. And after this commitment has been carried out, we shall still have a carry-over of more than the 150,000,000 bushel minimum.

But no one will be much concerned about a carry-over in face of the crop anticipated for 1948. The winter wheat crop has been estimated at 861,000,000 bushels. If this is realized and spring wheat runs into average weather, we shall have a wheat production of 1,130,000,000 bushels, which exceeds prewar averages by 250,000,000.

That should be more than enough to meet export needs, because the prospects abroad show that we shall not have to export more than 250,000,000 to 300,000,000 bushels.

Nevertheless, the government has recently stepped up its purchases. This cannot be a reflection of anxiety about the supply. It must be due to a desire to raise prices.

The failure of meat prices to rise as predicted is easy to understand. We shall have eight per cent less meat this year, but that will be much more per capita than before the war. And supplies will be larger than the slaughterings indicate because of the large stocks which were carried over January 1. Add to that, consumer resistance in January and February, when people became conscious of higher prices.

Another minor factor is the fact, shown in the report of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, that the purchasing power public is lower than it was last year. Consequently, the average American family will consume less meat. All this adds up to a fair inference that meat supply will be adequate at least until fall.

The lesson of all this is that with a fair break from Mother Nature, our old friends, supply and demand, free prices and free enterprise are much better regulators than are our new friends, the New Dealers.

Viewing the National Scene

Mr. Smith Has Emerged

By THOMAS L. STOKES

IT WAS reported here recently how the great private utilities, in their organized might through their national association of electric companies, had moved in finally with a frontal attack on TVA, that great public power, flood control navigation and reclamation project in the Tennessee Valley.

In an attempt to prevent needed expansion of power facilities, the association president, Purcell L. Smith, reputedly the highest paid lobbyist operating in Washington, appeared before a House appropriations subcommittee to oppose an item of $4,000,000 in the government corporations bill to begin work on a steam plant at New Johnsonville, Tenn., recommended by President Truman in his budget message.

Mr. Smith's personal appearance was most significant. Hitherto he has kept in the background in the numerous attacks made previously in the 80th Republican Congress on various phases of public power policy. These thrusts were left to local utility representatives in the effort to give the impression that these were local matters and did not involve basic principles.

All of them did involve basic principles and the big boys in utilities were back of them, though not in a public way.

Now Mr. Smith comes to Washington openly. He has been here all the time, of course. And it is true that he did appear in a secret session, but his appearance and what he said eventually will become known when committee hearings are published, which will be simultaneously with presentation of the bill to the floor and too late for the public to express itself before the House acts.

As a forecast of political weather, Mr. Smith's emergency is just as sure as is the first crocus in prognostication of the other sort of weather. It means that the big boys in utilities are now convinced that Republicans will take over the whole government in the next election and there is no longer any need for them to be timid and bashful nor to keep to the holes to which exposure of their tactics drove them in the New Deal days. The New Deal is over.

Familiar Picture.

THEY are ready for the expected beginning of a new era. They have used this 80th Congress to prepare the ground and plant the seeds, in the way of numerous bills, which they believe will flower luxuriantly when Republicans take over the whole government.

Some of them thought, optimistically, that they might get a few things done in this 80th Congress. They may yet. But two obstacles arose to any general successful attack along the whole front, one developing from the other.

The first was President Truman who, though he had lost control of Congress, still sat in the White House ready to veto any measures breaking down the public power policy previously established by Congress.

Republican leaders knew this. They knew this would give the president a beautiful opportunity to tell the public what was going on. That would have been embarrassing just before an election. So they politely passed the word that the utility bills, for the most part, should be held back in this Congress.

To the long-time reporter of Washington events it is all like seeing an old moving picture film again. It all recalls the return of Republicans after the last war and the inauguration address of President Warren G. Harding with his promises of "omission of unnecessary interference of government in business" and "an end to government's experiment in business."

"That was the tip-off. The big boys accepted the invitation and took over the government—as we all found out ten years later.

It looks as if we've got to go through it all again. Mr. Smith is back in Washington. It's hard to be philosophical about it; but it seems to be our way. The only solace is that there'll be another awakening. Meanwhile we'll have to pay the bill for our apathy.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Monday, April 16, 1928.

Survey was started by New York engineer looking toward "formulation of comprehensive city plan," including zoning ordinance and building code.

Resolution was adopted at Chamber of Commerce meeting urging Pennsylvania railroad to erect a new depot in Mansfield.

Fred Hilton, 75, former Mansfield theater manager, died in Toledo.

J. L. Zimmerman, 189 Cline avenue, went to Lincoln, Neb., to bring back a new airplane.

Miss Zaida Mapes and William Rand were married by Rev. J. J. Tisdall.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Frost, South Main street road.

Mrs. Sidney Smith, 93, died at her home, 120 Lida street.

"Old-fashioned" runaway (horse, that is) caused excitement on North Main street.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On April 16, 1942, the Island of Malta was awarded the George Cross because of the heroism and bravery of its inhabitants during daily Axis air raids. It is the first such award in British history.

Dave Boone Says:

THE question whether John L. Lewis shall continue to be bigger than the courts, the president, the government and a long-patient public ought to be settled presently. Unless, of course, Joe Martin steps in and benches Judge Goldsborough for Styles Bridges.

* * *

These changes in the lineup just to suit Mr. Lewis seem mighty bad business, even if they do end a strike.

* * *

"The contract is honored." That was Lewis's message to the miners. For a fellow so concerned with honor, it would be nice to see him showing a little concern for honoring the office of the President of the United States, the high courts of America, and the fellow who needs coal.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

U. S. Prestige Hurt By Palestine Shift

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — As delegates to the United Nations assemble in New York to consider unpartitioning Palestine, most of them will have in the back of their minds certain backstage things which happened when they first voted for partition.

For instance, the Liberian government, largely dependent on the United States and the Firestone Rubber company, last winter got a phone call from Harvey Firestone asking that Liberia vote for partition. Haiti, also economically dependent on the USA, got a call from Adolphe Berle, former assistant secretary of state, now adviser to the president of Haiti.

The French ambassador, following hints from state department friends, urged his government to vote for partition. The Chinese ambassador did likewise. Mexico, New Zealand, Colombia — all were discreetly pressured from Washington during the U. N. debate in November.

And having been told how to vote on Palestine last year, these nations now don't like to be told to vote the other way. They consider themselves sovereign states, not puppets voting as Uncle Sam cracks the whip and calls the roll.

* * *

American Handsprings.

IN DIPLOMATIC circles, it's discreetly stated that nothing has hurt American prestige more than our sudden somersault on Palestine. Comparing US foreign policy with British policy, diplomats point out that the British at least are consistent. Even though you disagree with them, you always know where the British stand.

But American policy is unpredictable. It is one thing one day and another thing the next.

For many years western European nations were in the habit of following Britain's lead. She was the strongest nation in the western world. But now, with the United States the most powerful, they prefer to follow us—provided they know where we are. However, it hurts any nation's prestige to have to explain that its vote was reversed because the United States turned a handspring.

* * *

Contempt of Congress.

THE FIRST of the ten Hollywood screen writers, charged by the Thomas committee with being communists, is now on trial. Of the ten, inside word is that six are communists and four not. The latter refused to answer questions because of honest conviction that Congress had no right to ask a man what party he belongs to.

Two years ago, a D. C. jury refused to convict Dr. Edward Rumely for contempt of Congress when he refused to answer questions about who contributed money to his Committee for Constitutional Government.

Rumely was backed by some of the big oilmen, by some of the Anderson-Clayton cotton executives and by Frank Gannett, New York's powerful chain newspaper publisher. Rumely himself had served time after being convicted for trading with Germany during World War I.

However, the jury let him off when he refused to tell Congress who his financial supporters were.

What influenced the jury was a charge by Judge James Proctor that the jury must be convinced Rumely "did not willfully default in failing to produce the required records" and that "the word willfully must be interpreted as having been done knowingly and with evil intent."

Judge Proctor has now been promoted to the court of appeals. Dr. Rumely still has failed to inform Congress—as now required by the Lobbying Act—who his financial contributors are, and a new contempt-of-Congress case is now before the D. C. court. It will be interesting to see whether Judge Edward Curran makes the same "evil intent" charge to the jury as Judge Proctor.

Stassen's Backers.

A LOT of people have wondered where Harold Stassen's campaign expenses were coming from.

The ex-Minnesota governor, not a wealthy man, has spent the last two years touring the length and breadth of the USA, with campaign headquarters set up in several states. Naturally, this takes money. The matter of who is putting up the money is important to the voting public.

Most of Stassen's backers, it can be revealed, are blue-chip businessmen, including some of his old Minnesota neighbors.

Several of the group, it should be noted, have progressive ideas and enjoy excellent relations with labor. Here are the chief Minnesota men behind Stassen:

Henry E. Atwood, president, First National Bank, Minneapolis.

Julian B. Baird, president, First National Bank, St. Paul.

Harry A. Bullis, chairman of the board, General Mills, Inc.

Edward B. Cosgrove, president, Minnesota Valley Canning company.

Donald D. Davis, president, Minnesota and Ontario Paper company.

Daniel C. Gainey, president, Posten Manufacturing company.

Jay C. Hormel, chairman of the board, George A. Hormel & company.

W. L. McKnight, president, Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing company.

John S. Pillsbury, chairman of the board, Pillsbury Mills, Inc.

PAC Provides An Example

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — There are a lot of things you could say about this election year and the conduct of the average type of voter if you wanted to preach a sermon.

However, few people like to listen to sermons, so perhaps it's best to just stick to recounting a few past and impending developments.

No man can look at this year's elections and not realize that we're building the foundations of a new era. Some say the old era ended with the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Others say it ended out on the cold night sands of New Mexico when a bunch of scientists and military men huddled behind distant barriers and wondered what would happen with the explosion of the first atomic bomb.

Whatever the date history settles for, the people of the world definitely are embarking on a new political period—domestically and internationally.

Due to our size, strength and success in the recent war, this country has been tagged to set a major part of the world pace in that new period.

How well we succeed in that task inevitably boils down to the elections this fall, which boil down to the primaries, which in turn boil down to the precinct squabbles in your home town and country.

This is the year the world chooses its leaders — the leaders who eventually will point the way to peace or war—and the calibre of this country's leaders unquestionably can swing the balance, one way or the other.

If war does come, the question of whether man's individual integrity (or man himself, for that matter) will survive may depend to a large extent on those same leaders.

Okay. So what can you as an ordinary individual not usually active in politics, do about it?

* * *

More Than Just Voting.

WELL, of course, all the old rules about utilizing your right to vote immediately come to mind. So do the reminders that voters should carefully check the candidates, with an eye to their eventual importance in this dawning new era. And then there's the key point about no office or elective official being too small to count.

Assuming that millions of Americans are taking just those things into consideration this year, it still isn't enough. This time, with world survival at stake, we must be our neighbor's keepers, too.

The primaries in Wisconsin and Nebraska already have indicated that, while the politicians are working around the clock, the average voter also is more than ordinarily aroused this year.

A lot can be learned from the methods of politicians and political machines, particularly in this all-important election year. A good example of the well-organized machine is the Oregan state CIO-Political Action committee's setup for the coming primary in that northwestern hotspot.

This is not an effort to argue the merits of the PAC, but merely a matter of discussing its mechanics.

First, it wisely ignored all attempts at premature preaching about which candidates and which party it favored, contenting itself with getting out the vote.

This meant seeing to it that every potential voter was properly registered—even the unfriendly ones. Time enough to attempt to convert them later.

In order to do that, they carried out a card-mailing campaign to all unregistered voters. Also, they used so-called "good citizenship" parades and personal telephone calls to stress the voter's responsibility.

* * *

Nothing Overlooked.

THEN they turned to even more practical methods. If a lady said she couldn't get down to register because she had a baby and couldn't leave it, they had the answer to that one. They provided her with a baby-sitter.

If someone else said he couldn't register because he had no transportation to get down to the courthouse, they provided a bus to pick him up—or a car. And so it went.

Needless to say, they'll carry through with that same sort of performance, come election day—primary or general.

Also needless to say, all of that service requires a lot of voluntary time and effort from ordinary, average citizens. Campaign chests only go so far.

Finally it is apparent that the people who are providing such personalized registration and voting service are in the best position to plug for their favorite candidates. 'Nuff said?

Washington Calling

Hazards of Coal Mining

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE POWER that John L. Lewis exercises over an essential industry has been demonstrated once again. He has reduced the nation's stockpiles of coal almost to zero and he has cost the miners approximately $100,000,000 in wages.

There is no mystery in the source of Lewis' power. He has convinced the mass of the miners—and with a large body of fact to back him up—that he is the only person who has done anything to improve their wages and working conditions. Mining is a hard, hazardous occupation, and miners throughout the world are prone to develop almost tribal loyalities.

On the base of this loyalty, Lewis has built an organization which he runs with dictatorial powers. Gangster methods have been used in the past to suppress opposition.

Power, as Lord Acton noted, is a heady wine, and absolute power is a temptation to corruption of the spirit that few men in history have been able to resist.

One of Lewis's most effective public appeals is on the issue of mine safety. Recently the United Mine Workers Journal urged the need for a federal law enforcing standards of safety.

Ever since the Centralia, Ill., disaster which took 111 lives, the need for a federal law to enforce minimum safety standards has been urged. Following that disaster, Congress passed a law calling on the bureau of mines in the department of the interior to report quarterly on how the individual states were living up to safety standards.

* * *

Bureau Lacks Authority.

EACH state has its own safety laws. The bureau of mines, a federal agency, has the power to inspect coal mines in the states but it cannot enforce changes which would reduce the hazards in the mines. This is a perfect example of how, with power divided between state and federal governments, it is impossible to fix responsibility.

The other day the third quarterly report was sent to Congress by the bureau of mines. It showed that nearly half of the violations of safety codes were uncorrected. Specifically, on the basis of 949 reports, the bureau noted 12,786 violations and indicated that nothing had been done to correct 6060 of these.

Standards of enforcement vary widely from state to state. Pennsylvania and Colorado, for example, have a good record. In Pennsylvania state mine inspectors are under civil service and they are paid more than federal mine inspectors.

In Illinois the inspectors are political appointees. Investigation of the Centralia disaster plainly showed how politics had interfered with safety enforcement.

At this point, of course, you get the familiar states' rights arguments. It is a powerful shield for careless companies that would be required by a federal statute to live up to the standards of the states with the best records.

The miner who goes down into a mine that he knows to be full of danger must sometimes wonder a little. In spite of his dogged loyalty to his leader, he must be a little puzzled to find himself in the camp of the states' righters committed to keeping the federal government from snooping.

$12,000 Farm Fire Rages In Rain

House Burns as Family Helps Church

BUCYRUS — Fire starting from a defective chimney completely destroyed a large farm home southeast of here early Thursday. The owner, Noah Lust of Bucyrus, estimated loss at $12,000. Personal belongings of tenants were also destroyed.

★

LEXINGTON — Rain fell in torrents Tuesday. It fell so hard and so steadily that Cecil Bender abandoned all plans for work on the 73-acre farm he bought last June on Route 2, about five miles southwest of Lexington off State Route 314.

Mrs. Bender long had wanted to take time to do some missionary work for the Seventh Day Adventist church of Bloominggrove. She suggested they use the rainy day to make calls.

So with their three adopted children — Carolyn Sue, 6; Nancy Lou, 5, and Ronald Cecil, 3 — they drove away.

About 2:30 the family returned. They had found few of their farm neighbors at home. Most of them had gone to a farm sale.

As they approached their home Mrs. Bender remarked: "Wouldn't this be a terrible day for a fire. You couldn't find anyone to help you."

It was then they noticed it — flames reaching toward the dripping skies from the second story of their seven-room frame farm residence.

By quick work, they saved most of the kitchen and dining room furnishings; some of the furniture from the living room.

But all of their bed clothing, all of their personal belongings went up in flames. Two hundred quarts of fruit canned last summer were destroyed.

★

Lost too was the sewing machine Mrs. Bender used to make all of the girls' clothes. "I think maybe I'll miss that as much as everything," Mrs. Bender remarked.

In addition to the house, the fire, believed caused by a defective chimney, destroyed the garage and shop. It struck just two weeks after a storm blew away the chicken house.

Today, the Benders are making their home temporarily with a farm neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. Hursel Ekin. They are wearing clothing borrowed from neighbors.

Insurance will cover part of the $12,000 loss, Mrs. Bender said. They hope to be able to rebuild but costs being what they are these days they are not sure.

Voice of Broadway

THE BOWERY, THE BOWERY

The City Planning Commission may change its name, but who will ever be able to change the human beings who sprawl on its sooty doorsteps, peer with bloodshot eyes through the shadows of the El, breathe their cheap alcoholic breath into an already heavily laden air, and on good nights buy an inflationary 35-cent flop at one of the cold, ugly Bowery hovels. This street is the Broadway of a time gone by. These are its citizens, the derelicts.

* * *

"Al the Bug" is one of the many who found a friend in Sammy Fuchs, the Bowery "mayor" and operator of Sammy's Bowery Follies, which calls itself "the only nightclub left on the Bowery." Al longed to play a trumpet like Harry James, so Sammy bought him an old yellow cornet for fifteen bucks. Night and day Al practiced at his flophouse or in the backroom at Sammy's, until finally, he was ready for his debut.

Sammy hired him for the Follies band. And it was a strange debut. Al hated crowds. So he stationed himself at the rear of the room, 'way back near the entrance to the men's room, and he played from there and the thin breathy music he made floated across the room like the world's lonesomest song.

* * *

Then there is "Hot Rock Danny from Alcatraz." He'll buy you a beer because he wants you to write a book about him. Why? Because he's the toughest guy who ever swaggered down the Bowery. As Danny edges up to the bar, hoary derelicts gulp their drinks and shuffle anxiously away. Gems are his specialty, but he'll try anything. Want a sample? His stories are impossibly fabulous, but each one ends with the shout, "Ain't that so, Fellahs?" and a babble of affirmation comes from the quaking bums at both ends of the bar. He gives you the address of his flop and invites you up to outline the book. He lives in a fifty-center, one of the most high-class flops on the Bowery!

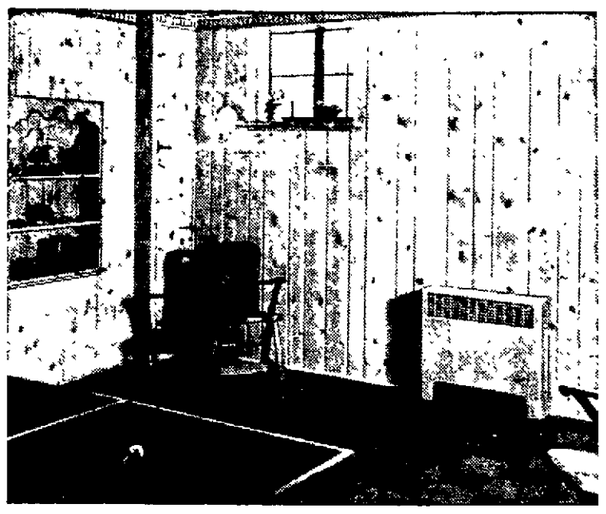
* * *

You'll never spend an evening on the Bowery without seeing "Father Time," for his mission in life is scrutinizing everyone who walks the Bowery. He's looking for his wife. The regulars will tell you that Father Time was once a successful young lawyer, junior partner in a Wall Street firm. That was over fifty years ago. As successful young men will, he met and courted one of the Bowery's cutest and gayest chorines. Finally they were married, but the scandal of this unconventional marriage cost him his job. When his friends went, his wife left him for another man. Father Time is certain that they set up housekeeping on the Bowery, and although he saw his enemy only once, he knows he'll recognize him if he sees him again.

Today he has a long white beard and a mane of white hair, and his ice blue eyes still peer at every Bowery visitor. He's sure that one day he'll find the man who stole his wife. And when he does, he'll kill him.

B'NAI B'RITH TO MEET

The B'nai B'rith Ladies' auxiliary will meet Sunday at 8:15 p. m. at 50 Sturges avenue. Mrs. Arthur Negin, president, will report the regional meeting held at Zanesville April 13. "Musical Scenes On Broadway" is the theme of the program to be presented by Harold McCuen. Refreshments will be served. Members are asked to bring clothing and books for S. O. S.



While house cleaning occupies most of the homemaker's working hours these spring months, the man of the house might well be devoting his spare time to construction of an attractive recreation room in the basement. This eye-appealing rumpus room is paneled in durable knotty pine and the floor is done in a red and black checkerboard motif. Comfortable warmth is supplied all year 'round by the streamlined convector radiator installed against the wall. Adaptable to any decorative scheme, the convector cabinet is painted to blend perfectly with the wood grain of the pine covered walls.

Tips Given on Proper Care and Removal of Wood Surface Stains

By ELEANOR ROSS

HERE we go again, taking up a further consideration of stains on wood surfaces, without further introduction.

During house painting time, no matter how well furniture is protected, one piece or another may suffer a paint spattering. Fresh paint stains may be wiped up with a cloth moistened in turpentine. Use a second clean turpentine cloth to remove all traces of the paint.

PAINT SPOTS

Paint spots that have dried will have to be softened with turpentine or scraped off. Scraping, however, will mar a painted or varnished surface. Paint spots on unfinished or oiled wood dry very fast because the wood absorbs the liquid. Hence, such woods must be well protected and any chance spots wiped up immediately.

Water spots on varnished furniture may usually be recognized as a light film. If this film does not disappear, some process of wiping it off must be found. If it is a very thin film it may be wiped off with a drop or two of oil on the cushiony part of the thumb. Of course, that is for a small spot. One may also use cold water with a drop of vinegar. Sometimes a water spot may be removed with a blotter and a warm iron.

WORK RAPIDLY

If one works rapidly, ammonia and hot water may do the trick. Use a single thickness of cheesecloth wrung out of hot water. Tip the top of the ammonia bottle just once on the hot cloth. Then, with an oily cloth in the other hand, rub the ammonia cloth gently on the stain, and instantly rub with the oiled cloth. Do not handle too large surfaces at a time. Finally, rub over with a little oil, such as lemon oil or a good furniture oil. The main thing is not to let the ammonia soften the varnish.

Water spots on a dining-room table are often accompanied by heat spots or by lint spots from the silence cloth. For the heat spot use a piece of flannel lightly moistened with spirits of camphor (camphoreatec oil) or essence of peppermint. Work quickly and lightly, then polish with furniture polish or lemon oil. Lint spots may be removed by rubbing with rottenstone and lemon oil. Then polish with a clean cloth, one that does not shed lint, and oil.

INK STAINS

As for ink stains on wood, a fresh stain usually can be wiped from finished surfaces with a damp cloth. Ink on a bare surface will penetrate and have to be bleached out. Use oxalic acid solution and ammonia or Javelle water as for ink stains on fabrics. The bleached spot should then be treated according to the surrounding surface, stained, oiled, waxed or polished.

In summer, when fogs and rains produce sweat on the water pipes and boiler, the piano and highly glazed woods will haze over. A good rub with furniture polish and a woolen cloth generally turns the trick. Or try washing the haze with a tablespoon of strong cider vinegar in a quart of water. Wipe dry. Rub afterwords, then polish.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, April 17.

FOLLOWING some profound, analytical and far-seeing thought, it is probable there may be a definite turn in the tide of impeded, complicated or tricky events, in which discretion may "prove to be the better part of valor." This program of strategy and astute action is likely to gain impetus by "turning on the charm." Even practical and every-day frustrations could yield to finesse, grace and magnetism.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find that they have reached a workable solution to stubborn difficulties by taking time out for profound and logical analysis of underlying factors for delay and defeat. After wise consideration, it is indicated that the purely personal equation may have vital and happy significance. Social, cultural, romantic techniques, even charm and magnetism seem destined to play a large part in "turning the magic key in the door of Destiny." Finesse, discretion, possibly money, may be dynamic in promoting prestige.

A child born on this day may find that its capacity for serious thought and constructive action may be enhanced by discreet use of charm, diplomacy and personal magnetism.

OFFICERS TO REHEARSE

Officers of Naomi Shrine No. 10 will rehearse Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Eagles hall. Installation will be Tuesday at 8 p. m in Eagles hall.

Everyone likes muffins—tender and light, golden crusted, piping hot from the oven. Even so, many homemakers overlook these family favorites.

Perhaps it's because some of you have the mistaken idea that muffins are a bother, that they take too long to mix and bake. But take this recipe which Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods kitchens recommends—try it and see for yourself how quickly a batch of muffins can be made. And see how quickly they disappear at the dining table

BREAKFAST MUFFINS

- 2 cups flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 1 beaten egg
- 3 tablespoons melted vitaminized margarine

Sift flour with salt, baking powder and sugar. Mix milk, egg and vitaminized margarine; add all at once to flour mixture. Stir just until dry ingredients are moistened, but not smooth. The batter will be lumpy. Fill greased muffin pans ⅔ full and bake in a hot oven (400°F.) about 25 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins.

Springfield Lady Lost 30 Lbs. Husband Well Pleased

"I have lost 30 lbs. while taking Rennel Concentrate," writes Mrs Wm. Walke, 1676 Catawa Ave., Springfield 2, Ohio. "I feel like a new person and always keep an extra bottle of Rennel handy for it is my faithful stand-by. I would never want to try anything else. I am 43 years of age and my husband and my friends say I look much younger for now I am so slim."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles; just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on and obtain genuine Rennel.

Tense World Awaits Italy's Vote Results

ROME—(AP)—The tumult and the shouting of the campaign die tomorrow, and Sunday morning Italy's, Europe's and the world's most important postwar election begins.

Twenty-nine million Italians are old enough to vote and it looks like just about all of them will—Lombardy's wealthy industrialists and Sicily's landed barons, Milan's and Turin's factory hands and Apulia's bronzed fishermen—prosperous small farmers, barefooted peasants, priests, cloistered nuns, soldiers, sailors, airmen.

The voters have been promised repeatedly by Premier Alcide de Gasperi that the entire force of the government is in readiness to protect them from communist terror tactics.

DeGASPERI

In pre-election travel over much of this ancient land of the Caesars, green and lovely in the early spring, these two correspondents — one who went north, the other south—talked with hundreds of these people.

At the peak of the campaign, they talked with big and little political shots, with communists, socialists of both persuasions, Christian Democrats, Monarchists, Neo-Fascists, with soldiers, policemen, carabinieri, taxi drivers, vaudeville actors, bootblacks, the jobless.

Of them all, north and south, this question was asked:

"What will make a man (or a woman) vote this way or that in your region?"

With few exceptions (most of them in the south), they replied—and many said it sadly, or bitterly—that it was the state of the outside world: internal economic and social questions, pressing though they were, had been submerged in the tidal wave of international events.

Here are the major conclusions these correspondents, comparing notes, have reached.

1. Hundreds of thousands who three months ago were fence-sitters or leftists-inclined will vote against communism — enough to deny the communist-controlled popular front an absolute majority in the new parliament, and enough, possibly, to make Premier de Gasperi's Christian Democrats the biggest single party or bloc.

2. Biggest factor in the drift away from the communist bloc is repeated kicks and cuffs from Russia, which have brought even good communists to the edge of despair. Had Russia stayed quiet the last four months, the communists might have won. Her "no" on Trieste Tuesday merely capped the sad—for the Italian communists—story that started with Czechoslovakia.

3. Biggest factor in the drift to the Christian Democrats is the Marshall Plan. Required opposition to it, dictated by the cominform has been the communists' thorniest cross. In the final stages leftist leaders have tried to wriggle out from under, hedging "we are not really against it, just some aspects of it."

4. Two things have happened not foreseen at the start of the campaign. One is the sudden spurt of Giuseppe Saragat's and Ivan Matteo Lombardo's independent (anti communist) "Socialist Unity" party. The other is resurgence of fascism.

5. By and large, the mud the left has flung at Uncle Sam has not dirtied his face very much, in Italian eyes.

6. The Catholic church, through its priests and the lay Catholic action, is going all out to defeat communism.

ADMIRE AMERICA

So, these correspondents believe, many Italians who enthusiastically followed Italy's sharp postwar swing to the left because they hoped communism and socialism would bring something like America's country and will vote for parties whose social and economic programs they mistrust but which promise to defend the country against Soviet expansion.

The size of the vote is the single biggest factor. If very bad weather, or leftist intimidation, keeps millions at home, the left will be helped. Experts say virtually every vote above 70 per cent will go to anti-communist parties. The Vatican is reported to figure that 83 per cent will vote. Most other observers think that is low.

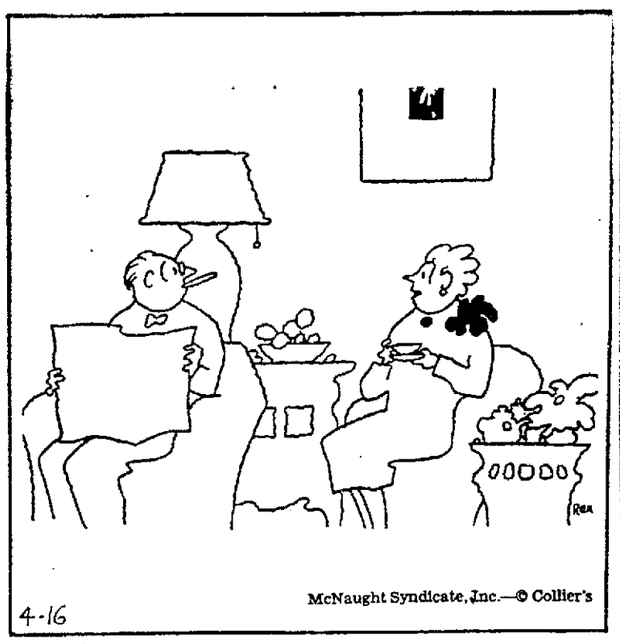
In the 1946 plebiscite on the monarchy, 89.1 per cent voted. The issue, this time, is bigger and more vital. Some believe more than 90 per cent will ballot.

A seamstress tells you she will take her 82-year-old mother, an invalid, to vote. A shepherd walks 105 miles, with his sheep, to vote. Of Rome's million-odd voters, less than 25,000 have failed to pick up voting certificates.

CLAIMS KLAN'S ACTIVE

ATLANTA—(AP)—The Ku Klux Klan by pre-election cross burnings and intimidation is enforcing a "white primary" in Georgia, the Rev. Joseph Rabun claims, despite gubernatorial veto of a "white primary" act.

This Funny World . . .



"Do you think that if the Democrats lose, Herbert, they will go underground?"

Pupils to Dance Saturday Night

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Farber, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marrison and Miss Ann Knapp will be chaperones for the annual spring formal of the Y-Teen department of the YWCA, scheduled for Saturday night in the Senior high school gym.

The dance has been named the "Teen Twirl" and members and their dates will dance to Paul Burgener's orchestra from 9 until midnight.

Blue-Tri clubs have sponsored bake sales and sold greeting cards to raise funds for the dance.

Committees on arrangements are: Jean Hathway, chairman; LaDonna Metz, Margaret Lindley and Jean Robinson, tickets; Mary Nixon, chairman, Shirley Christiansen, Sarol Hammon, Judy Rodey, publicity; Joan Freeland and Judy Rodey, refreshments; Betty LaYacona, chairman, Jean Robinson, Joan Freeland, Betty Bauman, Betsy Clark, Evelyn Urich, and Margaret Reese, decorations.

Auto Thief Sentenced

FORT WAYNE, Ind. — (AP) — Paul Allen Herring, 50, Fort Wayne, was sentenced yesterday to two years in prison for theft of an automobile from a Van Wert, O., parking lot. He was accused in U. S. district court of having used the car five months.

President of Philippines Victim of Sudden Death

MANILA — (AP) — President Manuel A. Roxas, first chief executive of the free Philippines, is dead.

The 56-year-old president of the Philippines was stricken ill at Clark Field Wednesday afternoon, shortly after he made a strong speech against communist aggression.

The announcement from the presidential palace said Roxas died at 10:10 p. m. Wednesday night at the quarters of Maj. Gen. E. L. Eubank at Clark Field, where he had been taken when he was stricken. General Eubank commands the U. S. 13th airforce.

ROXAS

Earlier, the palace had announced that Roxas had suffered merely from fatigue and was in no danger.

When the Philippine republic was born on July 4, 1946, Manuel Acuna Roxas took the oath as president and guided its first steps along the paths of independence.

President Roxas charted a course of close association with the United States.

He vigorously supported a controversial constitutional amendment granting equal economic rights to Americans and the electorate upheld him in a national plebiscite early in 1947.

In winning the presidency of the Philippine commonwealth in the spring of 1948, Roxas defeated the incumbent, Sergio Osmena, by a majority in excess of 200,000 votes.

That marked a climax to a political career that began at 29 when he was elected governor of the province of Capiz where he was born Jan. 1, 1892.

While Osmena remained in the palace, Roxas put his oratory to work in an energetic campaign which embraced the whole archipelago.

SERVED IN ARMY

A reserve major in the Philippine army, he was called to active duty soon after Pearl Harbor and was appointed an aide to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

He moved to Bataan with MacArthur and President Quezon when Manila was declared an open city. Later he was urged to seek a haven in the United States, but declined to leave.

When Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright surrendered his forces on Corregidor in the tragic early days of the struggle, Roxas, then a brigadier general, was in Mindanao.

He continued to fight the Japanese as a guerrilla for a time, but finally surrendered. After several months in an internment camp in Mindanao, he was taken to Manila.

River Gets Marietta' Wet, But City Isn't Worrying

MARIETTA —(AP)— From the air it looks tough, but on the ground, where it's dry, Marietta is doing all right in the 1948 Ohio river flood.

Everybody takes the day off. People with johnboats and skiffs make money rowing sightseers about the business district.

All the bars are closed as part of the city's flood emergency machinery, but the liquor store was all but bought out when it became clear there was going to be a flood.

The streets beyond the flood district are jammed with parked trucks, autos, taxis, and other vehicles that ordinarily use the now covered parking lots.

Restaurants are running low on vegetables, but still have plenty of meat. Marietta college's students have a holiday.

Marietta is wet, but not worried. The first white settlement of the northwest territory has been flooded a lot.

U. S. Military Policy Neglects To Provide For European Defense

Correspondents and commentators have been reporting the hopes and doubts of officials in the state department who are thinking about the President's promise that "the United States will, by appropriate means, extend" to the free nations of Europe the military support which they need in order "to protect themselves."

But while these officials are thinking about what to propose, the Congress is about to dispose of the matter—certainly for the next crucial months—as soon as it has settled the dispute between Defense Secretary Forrestal and Air Secretary Symington.

For once the new military program is adopted, it will be set, unless war breaks out, at least until there is a new administration next winter.

Yet neither the Forrestal nor the Symington program is designed to provide "appropriate means" by which the western union nations can "protect themselves."

The Pentagon, however, divided on the relative size of the air force, the ground army and the navy, is proposing no program which takes into account the fact that the state department promoted the Brussels alliance and that the President and Secretary Marshall have committed the country to support it.

The Brussels pact is a defensive alliance to resist the invasion and occupation of western Europe. American military policy — the strategical doctrine and the actual program to support it, both Mr. Forrestal's and Mr. Symington's—is not designed to defend particular countries against invasion; it is designed to deter aggression against any country by the threat of a crushing reprisal against the centers of the Soviet Union itself.

Until these two military conceptions have been reconciled inside the administration, we shall not be moving toward an understanding with the western union but toward a most dangerous misunderstanding.

The Brussels pact is to prevent invasion. The Pentagon policy is to defeat Russia eventually. In 1939 Britain and France went to war when Poland was attacked. But they did not defend Poland. In 1941 the United States went to war with Japan. But it was unable to defend the Philippines.

The question, therefore, is not whether the United States will by treaty or joint resolution formally promise to go to war if the western union is attacked. It is whether it can and will adopt military measures which enable Great Britain, the United States, France and the Benelux nations to oppose effectively an advance by the Red army into western Europe.

The essence of the problem is what will happen to France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg if our strategic air force is not a sufficient deterrent against all aggression, if indeed, while it is being built up, the Soviet Union decides to occupy western Europe and hold it as the hostage against our strategic air force and the atomic bomb.

It is therefore beside the point, and in fact quite misleading, to talk about whether the Senate should be asked to ratify a treaty of aliance which pledges us to go to war if the western union is attacked.

The United States would as a matter of fact be at war before the western union was at war. For the Red army cannot cross the Rhine until it has crossed the Elbe; it cannot cross the Elbe without attacking the American army before it attacks the Belgians, the Dutch and the French.

★

The presence of General Clay and his troops in Germany is an absolute guaranty, more certain and more automatic than any treaty could be, that the United States would not be neutral.

Therefore, the guaranty that the United States would go to war exists and cannot be made any stronger. What is wanting are the "appropriate means" to give western Europe a good fighting chance to defend itself successfully.

Without such measures an eventual victory such as the Pentagon has in mind—would be, as regards western Europe—apart from Britain which cannot be invaded—a case where the operation was successful but the patient died.

Little Old New York Described By Columnist Turned Historian

THE MURRAY HILL district is named after the lovely Mrs. Murray who detained Lord Howe at a tea party—allowing Gen. Washington's troops to scurry out of a British trap. . . . A huge power plant is built in solid rock beneath Park Ave. It transmits power to the New York Central railroad. . . . There used to be a reservoir where the Vth Ave. Public Library now stands. . . . From atop the Empire State edifice (half-a-mile up) you can spot 3 states on a clear day. . . . During the Gay 90s mashers (wolves) stationed themselves at 23rd and Vth Ave. to ogle and "yoo-hoo!" passing bustles. That allegedly inspired the phrase "23-skidoo!"

★

Sub-cellars in Chinatown (once opium dens) are now used to store furniture. . . . A slice of original New York territory (where Injuns romped) is preserved in Bronx Park. . . . Those who arrive first at many Bowery flophouses are given cots—the rest snooze on the bare floor. . . . The forgotten graveyard on lower 2nd Ave. overgrown with weeds. Prominent New Yorkers were buried there when that sector was a fashionable residential neighborhood. . . . The fountain in front of the Plaza Hotel is a gift from publisher Joseph Pulitzer.

★

The red brick mansions facing Washington Square were erected during the Revolutionary era. . . . Brightly-colored artists' studios along MacDougal Alley were originally stables. . . . There are subterranean streams under exclusive Gramercy Park. . . . The City Hall has a marble front and an ugly brownstone back. It was once thought that the city would never extend so far north as to make the back of City Hall noticeable. . . . Tucked away behind the Federal Bldg. is a small church where Mass is said for night workers.

★

The Declaration of Independence was first publicly read at City Hall park. Among those who listened to the historic words there was G. Washington. . . . Thames St. remains as narrow as it was in the days when it served as a carriage drive for one man's estate. . . . The reason chunks of metal are missing from the railing around Bowling Green: They were broken off and melted down into bullets during the Revolutionary War. . . . The United Nations in New York: Immigrants from more than 45 different nations live here. . . . Pearl St. is the town's most ancient thorofare.

★

The sculptor of Lady Liberty (Frederic Bartholdi) also selected its site. Incidentally, the statue is not made of stone alone—its outer layer is copper. . . . Years ago New York policemen celebrated the coming of Spring by donning straw skimmers. (O, you kid!) . . . The fabulous Captain Kidd lived at 199 Pearl St. He was originally given financial support by some well-heeled, respectable New Yorkers—and they shared the famed pirate's loot.

Rusk Warns Of Traffic Hazard

Finds More Bridges, Roads Damaged

As more reports of water damage to county roads and structures reached his office, County Engineer Walter E. Rusk again today called on motorists to drive "cautiously."

Latest water damage reported, Rusk said includes:

Undercutting of a sandstone retaining wall on the Coursen road bridge over Steele run in Perry township.

Undercutting of a small lattice truss bridge on the Woodberry-Bellville road. Rusk said the bridge was open only to local traffic and the mailman.

On the Darlington North road flood water narrowed the road at the Thuma bridge as much as four feet, requiring one-way traffic, Rusk said.

Another bridge has settled about a foot and a half. It spans Switzer Run in Monroe township, just off the Pleasant Valley road. Rusk said the abutments would be replaced.

Rusk said a power-shovel was taken to Butler to start removing the Union street bridge which was washed into the creek Sunday. He said the work would be done early next week.

Pile-driving equipment was being moved to the site of the Amstutz road bride over Geary ditch in Bloominggrove township. The bridge, damaged by flood waters, has been out three weeks.

Wife Seeks Votes For Husband

Mrs. Martha Taft, wife of the Ohio senator, has a rival for the title of the state's most active woman campaigner.

Mrs. G. K. Allen, Cleveland, was in Mansfield yesterday afternoon pushing the campaign of her attorney-husband for the Republican nomination for the Ohio supreme court.

Mrs. Allen said she started campaigning when she was four years old. She started her statewide stumping, she said, because her husband's law practice leaves him little time for campaigning. He was nominated for the supreme court in 1938 but was defeated.

Mrs. Allen said she helped her father campaign as a small girl in Illinois where he held school board and other local offices. She has been in campaigns ever since, she said.

Husband, Wife Hurt In Crash

Arthur Hankins, 20, 338 Wayne street, and his wife, 19, were injured yesterday at 5:20 p. m. in an auto-motorcycle collision.

Mrs. Hankins suffered contusions and abrasions of the right leg. Her husband received lacerations and abrasions of the left leg. Both were released after treatment at General hospital.

Mrs. Florence Pfleiderer, 45, 60 Brickman street, was driving the automobile south on Franklin street. Neither she nor her husband, Aaron, were injured. Hankins, with Mrs. Hankins as a passenger on the motorcycle, was headed east on Fourth street.

Struck on Head

Willard C. Day, Clay City, Ky., was questioned today by police after he was found at Sixth and Adams streets last night with several cuts on his head. He said an unknown assailant attacked him.

Boy, 12, Points Way In City Art Classes

By NITA BRANSON

A black-haired, dark-eyed 12-year-old boy points the artistic way for 65 Mansfield school children who each Saturday morning put on paper their impressions of the model-for-the-day in the city recreation department's art classes.

The school children are being taught the fundamentals of drawing by John Bernat, Mansfield artist, and a corps of city art experts.

The 12-year-old is Charles Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce J. Andrews of Crystal Spring avenue. Grandson of a full-blooded Cherokee Indian, Charles has inherited his artistic talent from an uncle, his mother said.

Charles doesn't know whether he will make a career of art or music. He can play the clarinet as well as he draws.

Last Saturday morning, about 65 pairs of hands struggled to portray the posture of the stuffed jaguar that stood on a stand in the big room of the Memorial building.

The jaguar and two stuffed owls were brought down to the room from the museum on the third floor.

MOVE FROM PARK

At first, pupils went to Liberty park for their lessons.

"But the transportation problem there was too difficult," Stanley Kamen, city recreation head, explained. "So through Fred Elder we obtained this room and the use of the animals. Sometimes one of the mothers who come along act as a model for us," Bernat said.

"I'd like to give a great deal of credit to those who have helped with these Saturday morning classes," Bernat added. "Mrs. Denzil Schaaf hasn't missed a Saturday morning. Then there are Miss Pearl Danback, Miss Helen Lindbeck, Mrs. Margaret Twitchell Swank, winner of last year's guild show, Mrs. Harry Lemley, Mrs. Dan Haber, Miss Mary Hrivnak and Miss Mary Jane Bolus, all of whom have helped on the project."

"Our success with this project has been greater than we anticipated," Kamen said. "We had no idea that we could get an average of 65 school children out to these classes for a whole winter season. But they've been coming every Saturday, and while, as Bernat says, they may not all develop into great artists, there are a few who make it all worth while."

Classes for the city's school children began last fall under the supervision of the city recreation department in cooperation with the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild.

Waste Oil Burns

Firemen from Central and No. 4 stations went to the Farm Tools plant about 7 p. m., yesterday when hot scales from a processing furnace ignited the waste oil in a pit. There was no damage.

Red Cross Tops Goal

Shelby Donation Proves Clincher

The Red Cross fund campaign, after two extra weeks of working by officials and volunteer solicitors, today went "over the top."

An after-deadline contribution of nearly $400 received from the Shelby Depot sent the campaign over the 1948 goal of $58,000 with a final total of $58,190.

Since the campaign closed officially March 31, gifts of $10, $5, even $2 and $3 have dribbled into the Red Cross chapter house. They came in sufficient volume to send the total over the goal, with money to spare.

Today Frank Elias, chapter chairman, was gratified with the result. He had high praise for the volunteer workers.

"I would like to take this opportunity," he said, "particularly to thank W. S. Ross, campaign chairman; John H. Finefrock jr, vice chairman, and all the other division heads and volunteer workers who made it possible for us finally to achieve our much-needed goal.

"Although this year's campaign has been more of a struggle than in any of the 2 previous drives, we are all grateful that Richland county has finally done it again.

Fire Destroys Loaded Truck

A trailer truck owned by Walter R. Figley, 67 Rowland avenue, and owned by the All-States Freight, Inc., Mansfield, was destroyed by fire last night near Krumsville, Pa.

According to Figley, who has been employed by the company for eight years, the blaze started in the undercarriage of the truck. He tried to detach the trailer, but was unsuccessful, and the entire cargo and the truck were destroyed. He was uninjured.

Officials of the trucking firm said the truck carried a miscellaneous load, and the exact contents are not known until a check is made.

The load and the truck were covered by insurance.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

As Mrs. David N. Roller says, "A preacher's theme song is 'My time is your time'" so there won't be any special birthday celebration for Rev. Roller today. He and Mrs. Roller and their son, Neil, probably will join tonight in the covered dish dinner of the Capt. Stevenson's class of the First Presbyterian church, of which Rev. Roller is pastor. But tomorrow, unless church plans intervene, there'll be Rev. Roller's favorite chocolate cake and other birthday trimmings for a quiet family dinner. Rev. Roller has been pastor of the First Presbyterian church for the past 12 years.

The News-Journal also extends birthday greetings to W. W. Purdy, Mansfield contractor, and E. W. Davis, city street superintendent.

GET 'NEW LOOK'—

The "new look" has invaded Mansfield's fire department. Fire Chief L. J. Steele said today Mansfielders could start watching for some brand new uniforms on the men since a salesman from a Chicago company had a lucrative in the city yesterday. Complete uniforms for a fireman, which the man must purchase out of his own pocket, cast $55. Returned to No. 2 station yesterday was a pumper, completely overhauled and painted by the Seagrave corporation in Columbus.

DOGS RUN LOOSE—

County Dog Warden C. H. Hill today called on residents to keep their dogs tied. He said he had received "a lot of complaints" about dogs running loose and damaging property. Hill said the complaints came largely from residents whose lawns and gardens were trampled by dogs and from parents whose children have been injured by dogs.

Cows In Herd Here Heavy Producers

Three registered Holstein-Friesian cows in the herd of Carl Oberlin, Mansfield, have completed official production records in an advanced registry test, the Holstein-Friesian of America reported today.

The highest producer had a record of 527 pounds of butterfat and 14,491 pounds of milk. The record was made in 341 days on two milkings daily, at the age of two years 5 months. The other cows produced 451 pounds of butterfat and 12,424 pounds of milk, in 365 days and 412 pounds of butterfat and 10,472 pounds of milk in 365 days.

'Mystery' Lacking In Order

Council Acts To Close Lid

The ban on gambling in Bellville will stay "until hell freezes over." That's what Mayor Charles Palm said today about the gambling ban put on by Bellville village council and himself.

The mayor elaborated: "As long as there's a state law against gambling, we intend to enforce the law."

There was no "mystery" to the order to rid the village of gambling. Council ordered it.

By resolution, approved April 5, it direcected that anti-gambling laws must be enforced strictly in the village, effective last Monday.

Said Mayor Palm: "I've always been against gambling in any way, shape or form. As soon as the question came up at council meeting, council members lined up in a body."

TO PROTECT BOYS

He said the movement was started to keep boys under 18 out of poor rooms. Council at its next meeting, he added, may be asked to lower the age limit to 16. "That's no good," he commented.

He said the movement also was aimed to keep 'teen-agers out of pool halls and away from gambling atmospheres.

Removed by order of the mayor were punch boards, games of chance and dice games. A ban was placed on card games. There are no pin-ball machines in Bellville.

"The boards are all out and gambling has stopped as far as we know," the mayor said, adding that there was a lot of cooperation from everyone involved.

Asks Better Program

Rev. Charles A. Driscoll, former youth leader in the Synod of Ohio Lutheran church, declared last night at the First Lutheran Sunday school centennial dinner, that Sunday schools should expand their programs of religious education, particularly since it has been banned in public schools through a recent supreme court ruling.

He said there are a number of things the Sunday school could do to achieve this result if it really wants to do a good job of teaching religion. Actual teaching and administration should be done by competent laymen with supervision by the pastor, who has been trained in such work.

The relationship of the church council and the Sunday school should be improved; buildings should be made adequate, particularly for the small children; equipment should be of the highest efficiency; grading should be expanded; time should be allocated more carefully and teachers should be trained for their work, he said.

There were 128 past and present teachers and officers of the Sunday school at the dinner in the church basement last night. Richard Wolford, superintendent, presided and called on four others among the living superintendents for brief remarks. Boyd Robinson, Harry Wolf, John K. Linsenmayer and Lewis J. Cashell, responded. Group singing was led by Dimon Herring.

John Huber Dies at 82

John Henry Huber sr., 82, died at his home, 567 Maple street, Thursday afternoon following a lingering illness.

Mr. Huber was born in Crestline June 21, 1865 and had resided in this vicinity all his life. He was married to Nettie Mae Hoffman, Dec. 24, 1892. Mrs. Huber died 11 years ago.

Mr. Huber was a member of the St. John's Evangelical church.

Surviving are three daughters Mrs. Theodore Haag and Mrs. Glenn Statler, both of Mansfield, and Mrs. Chester Richey of Crestline; one son, John H. Huber jr., of Mansfield; one sister, Mrs. Mary Smith of Mansfield; five grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Jones Memorial Saturday at 2 p. m., in charge of Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor of the St. John's church. Burial will be in the Crestline cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Store Starts Remodeling

Another North Main street business building front is going to get a face-lifting.

Workmen have started a project at Gerstenfeld's, 17 North Main. The firm expects to spend about $3,500 remodeling the front of the building. Stone refacing work will be done by Charles Keating, Mansfield contractor.

This is the first part of a complete "face-lifting" job at the store, officials said. The windows will be remodeled and a new sign will be erected.

Request For Draft Boosts Activity at City's Army Sation

Inquiries about enlistments in the Army have increased 200 per cent in the Mansfield area since President Truman asked Congress for the immediate re-enactment of the draft, Capt. Robert L. Pine, commanding officer of Mansfield Recruiting station, announced today.

However, actual enlistments have shown little variance, but a heavy increase is anticipated when schools graduate their classes in June.

Candidates for army service, still in school, have been checking the possibilities of continuing their education and seeking information on how far the army will go in their aid to an education, Capt. Pine said.

On this issue Capt. Pine made it clear that all boys seeking to follow any of the 69 regular courses, must have a letter from their high school principal, as a reasonable assurance of graduation from high school. Thirty-seven other educational courses are available for boys preferring the Air Force.

If candidates are accepted by the army as recruits, enlistment now will insure their completion of basic training before the opening date of their school this fall.

Mansfield Relays Finals Listed Saturday

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

DAVE ALBRITTON, former Ohio State high jump ace, will give an exhibition at tomorrow's Mansfield Relays. . . . Although he's in his early 30's, Albritton plans to try for an Olympic berth this summer. . . . Just last year he won the National AAU title with a leap of 6-6. . . . Albritton was a mate of Jesse Owens on the Cleveland East Tech track team which won the national scholastic crown in 1933. . . . That's the year that Harry Mehock's Tygers defeated East Tech for the Mansfield Relays crown by a half-point. . . . Albritton is now a teacher at Dayton Dunbar. . . . His exhibition will follow the regular Relays high jump. . . . Counting the junior high and grade school relays, the 1948 Mansfield Relays' contestant list will be 1,053 youngsters from 90 teams. . . . Sixteen teams will race in the junior high event and 10 in the grade school. . . . Adding drivers, coaches, team managers and officials, more than 1,300 out-of-town persons will be in Mansfield today and tomorrow for the Relays.

THE 100-YARD dash will give the officials the most trouble tomorrow. . . . Seventy-nine youngsters will compete in the 100 with 76 racing in the 440. . . . Total entries for the other events follow: 220, 71; 880, 74; 120-yard high hurdles, 61; 220-yard low hurdles, 60; mile, 60; shuttle relay, 29; medley relay, 30; 880 relay, 41; two-mile relay, 22; four-mile relay, 10; mile relay, 33; high jump, 69; pole vault, 50; discus throw, 71; shot put 73, broad jump, 67.

PAUL TAPPAN, Mansfield, has been elected commodore of the Vermilion Boat club on Lake Erie. . . . Joe Miller, Tyger athlete, passed up early baseball practice to concentrate on football. . . . All Bengal baseball and track men were excused from spring football after the first week, but Miller felt he needed the extra work to become proficient at left-half. . . . He was starting quarterback in 1947 and is a fine pro baseball catching prospect. . . . The Stroh's Beer team of Detroit, one of the nation's top bowling machines, hit 9,177 pins in the all-events at the ABC. . . . That means the bowlers averaged 611.4 for every event they shot over the nine game route.

Jock Sutherland Estate $500,000

Ohio Track Aces Feature 64-School Cinder Field

By FRED THARP, News-Journal Sports Editor

The field in tomorrow's giant Mansfield high school Relays finals at Stadium field will read like a "Who's Who" of Ohio track and field athletes.

Youngsters, who won state individual titles and Relays championships in 1947, will be in profusion in the 17th renewal of Headache Harry Mehock's gala cinderpath extravaganza. Only two out-of-state schools have entered—New Castle and Ambridge, Pa.—but both clubs feature Pennsylvania state champions.

Richard Rytel of Ambridge is the Quaker state's mile king while New Castle won the mile relay championship of Pennsylvania. The latter school appeared in the 1947 Mansfield Relays and was good enough to take home 10th place in a big field. New Castle has designs on the title this trip and will be represented by 23 boys.

Six state titles and five individual Relay crowns will be up for defense in tomorrow afternoon's finals. In addition, 25 other contestants placed in the state meet or the local thinclad affair.

A special grade school relay and a four-mile relay this afternoon opened the competition. However, finals in 17 events are listed tomorrow afternoon, starting with the junior high 440-yard relay at 1:45. Preliminaries in the sprints, hurdles and field events are listed tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The big afternoon program will last just over three hours. The Senior high school band will play during the finals.

949 INDIVIDUALS

Teams from 64 schools will be after the Relays' crown worn jauntily throughout the last 12 months by Columbus Central. The Capital city crew will defend its crown but cannot be cast in the role of favorite with such teams as Cleveland Central, Cleveland East Tech, Springfield and New Castle in the field. The 64 schools will be represented by 949 boys.

Although the running events are loaded with stars, the toughest championship to crack will probably be the shot put. At least seven of the competitors can toss the iron ball over 50 feet and a heave of a foot less than that won the 1947 Relays.

Possibly the best of the shot crew is Bob Toneff, Barberton; Burt Lindsay, Mansfield, and John Hlay, Niles McKinley. All have hit 52 in practice and the latter was second in the 1947 Relays while Lindsay is district champion.

Gene Fleming, Caledonia lad who took second in the state Class B last year, and Joe Pizzoferato, Mingo Junction, are the other top lads.

SPRINT CHAMPION

Most proficient of the defending champs is J. V. Clifford, the Canton McKinley sprint ace. He won the 100 and 220 in the state meet as well as the Relays. Three other Relays point gatherers—Jesse Poorbaugh, Ashland, Ronald Myers, Galion, and Herbert Lyles, Cleveland Central—are the top threats.

Campbell Memorial's Marion Swain was fourth in the state 100 last trip.

The hurdles events will feature Bill Simmons, Akron East, defending champion in the highs and lows, and Don Stinchcomb, Springfield, who placed in both events in the state meet. Ray Hamilton, Canton's state meet finalist; Marty Bricker, Senior high, and Edward McCadden, Cleveland East Tech, also are very much in the running. McCadden took the highs and lows in the recent Cleveland indoor meet.

Experts look to the high jump for the top individual effort. Jim Jarvis, Cleveland Central, has hit 6-6½ indoors and may be able to kayo the Relays record of 6-5½ by O'Rourke of Warren in 1938.

Jarvis tied his mate Dave Lauderdale for first in the state last year after placing second in the Relays. Lauderdale will also jump tomorrow.

EXPECT HOT DUEL

Another hot duel is expected in the 880 as Relays' king Rancy Fox, Columbus Central and state champion Ike Owens, Dayton Dunbar tangle. Then there is Don Chisam, Akron North, who placed fifth in the state and Paul Dombraski, Conneaut, who has raced the two laps in the fine time of 2:02 this year. Fox's winning time was 2:06 in 1947.

The 440 will feature Bob Cooper, Columbus Central's defending state champion. He was second in the Relays. Jim Fastzkie, Oak Harbor, and Douglas Morgan and Cleve Rush of Springfield are also tough. Fastzkie was fourth in the '47 state Class B.

Douglas was second in the state broad jump in 1947. Another broad leap threat is Duane Gordon, Oberlin, who was fourth in the Relays and second in the state Class B.

GOOD MILERS

George Gross, Cleveland West Tech, and Sheldon Lambert, Euclid Brush, state meet mile finalists, and Don Brooks, the Springfield lad, who was second to Mansfield's Ollie Cline in the pole vault, are other top performers. Gross won the first section of the Cleveland indoor mile.

Seven more schools and 87 boys came in this morning. The list includes: Lima Central 11, Richwood 13, Chatfield 6, Mt. Vernon 6, Galion 17, Upper Sandusky 9, and Hamilton 25.

Kansas Relays Begin Today

LAWRENCE, Kas. —(AP)— The 23rd annual Kansas relays—one of the major trials for the United States Olympic team candidates—opens today with the gruelling decathlon.

The favorite was Irvin (Moon) Mondschein of New York university who has three National AAU championships to his credit.

Among the best bets to better records are Charles Fonville, Michigan shot putter, Harrison Dillard, Baldwin-Wallace college hurler, and Fortune Gordien, Minnesota discus ace.

Legion Junior Baseball Meeting Slated Sunday

BUCYRUS — An open meeting for the promotion and organization of American Legion junior baseball in the fifth Legion district will be held at the American Legion home here Sunday at 3 p. m.

Motion pictures will be shown at the meeting and Bob Billups will speak.

RELAYS' LUMINARIES—These two fellows will be very much in evidence tomorrow at Stadium field. Jim Jarvis (left) and his coach, Russ Alexander, are two reasons Cleveland Central is one of the favorites to take the 1948 Mansfield Relays crown. Jarvis tied for first in the state high jump last year as Alexander's Central team won the Ohio Class A title. He has soared 6 feet, 6½ inches this year and may develop into an Olympic star.

Pin Tourney Begins Again

Bowling in the Industrial tournament on the Colony alleys will be resumed tomorrow, with the teams heading into the final week end of the affair.

Thirty nine teams will compete before the title is settled. The Banner Room No. 2 team tops the team event at present with 3,074 pins.

Sis DeWeese Tops Keglers

Sis DeWeese was the main gunner last night in a light night caused by the termination of several of the bowling leagues. Sis blasted a 197 finish after she had speared 182 and 173 and totaled 552 to set the pace for a pair of victories, in the Dominion Women's league.

Sue Humphrey tapped a middle game of 212 and had 548 for the night, with Gladys Indorf hitting 462, and Ada Weekly having a good single game of 185.

★

Socea hammered a 209 middle game in the Richland 'C' loop and totaled 522 with H. Young getting into one of those ruts. Young clipped 167, 166, and 167 for a 500 total while Scheid was going along at 177, 139, and 189 for 505.

Softball Machines To Hold Workouts

Moose Lodge will drill from 2-4 p. m. on the Prospect Park diamond, with Penn Auto practicing from 1 to 3 p. m. at North Lake.

Greenberg's Aching Back Causes Shift; Feller Drops 2-0 Decision to N. Y. Giants

OWENSBORO, Ky. — (AP) — "Who's on first?"—the baseball gag line made famous by the comedy team of Abbott and Costello—certainly could be applied to the Cleveland Indians today.

The first base picture became even more murried yesterday when Vice President Hank Greenberg developed a stiff and aching back that kept him on the sidelines.

With Eddie Robinson treating an ankle injury in Cleveland Elbie Fletcher still shelved with a bruise on the arch of his foot, the first base assignment in the exhibition game with the New York Giants yesterday went to Walt Judnich. Ordinarily a center fielder, Judnich played first part of last season with the St. Louis Browns.

Hammering Hank replaced Robinson, four days ago in Tulsa, Okla., and had played every inning of every game since. Yesterday he went through batting and infield practice before asking that he be left out of the lineup.

Bob Feller faced the Giants at Evansville, Ind., yesterday in his final appearance before next Tuesday's opener against the Browns and had the misfortune of opposing a pitcher who, for yesterday at least, was a slightly better hurler.

Sheldon (Available) Jones handed the Redskins their first whitewashing of the year, 2-0, as the series was evened at seven victories apiece.

Feller gave the Giants only four hits in seven innings, while Jones limited the Indians to the same total over the full nine innings.

But Feller walked the first two batters to face him in the first inning. They scored on a single and two long fly balls for the only runs of the contest.

The Indians and Giants play their last exhibition here today before turning to Cleveland for Saturday and Sunday games.

NEW YORK —(UP)— The New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers were scheduled to pick up today where they left off at the end of the hectic 1947 world series.

Frank (Spec) Shea, who beat the Dodgers twice during series triumph, was slated to pitch against them in an exhibition—but serious—game at the Ynakee stadium. Southpaw Joe Hatten and Rex Barney were expected to divide the Brooklyn mound chores.

RICHMOND, Ind. — (UP) — The Cincinnati Reds, the "surprise team" of spring training with a record of 22 victories in 33 games, were scheduled to clash with their Syracuse Chief farm hands of the International league here again today.

The Redlegs blew an early 6-0 lead yesterday at Lexington, Ky., but made good use of bases on balls to eke out an 8-6 triumph. Grady Hatton's homer led the Cincinnati attack. The Chiefs shelled Everett (Red) Lively from the mound after six frames, but were held in check by Kent Peterson.

Western Clubs Win Three In AA Openers

(By Associated Press)

Three western division clubs were off to victorious starts in the 1948 American association's baseball pennant race in last night's four premiere games in the league's eastern cities.

It was the first time in 14 years that the Triple-A circuit hasn't split its inaugurals between the east and the west. The weatherman gave the teams a break and a total of 49,139 fans turned out at Toledo, Columbus, Louisville and Indianapolis for the association's 47th season openers. The attendance better last year's total figure by 16,508.

Results of last night's games:

St. Paul 7, Toledo 3; Milwaukee 12, Columbus 2; Minneapolis 4, Louisville 1, and Indianapolis 6, Kansas City 2. The Blues were the only western club to go down to defeat on opening night.

Frank Lane, American association president, proved a near prophet in his prediction of 50,000 attendance for the first games. The turnout included 14,128 paid customers at Columbus, the largest crowd ever to watch an association opener.

Tonight's schedule: Milwaukee at Columbus; St. Paul at Toledo; Minneapolis at Louisville; Kansas City at Indianapolis.

Dog Show Opens

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The annual Cleveland dog show of the Western Reserve Kennel club will open here tomorrow for a two-day stand. Some 1,200 dogs of 75 breeds have been entered.

Morningstar Shifts Lineup for Game Tonight

Joe Miller Returns To Left Half

By GAYLE HAYES

Mansfield fans will get their first look tonight at the new look football team for Senior high followers next fall. The 1948 edition—or a reasonable facsimile of the 1948 machine—will take the field an underdog to an all-senior combination, on the stadium sod at 8 p. m.

The gates at the north stands will be opened at 6:30 but there will be no reserved seats

Several last-minute switches in the lineup of the "varsity new look" team have been made with Joe Miller shifted from quarterback to left half, Jim Chamberlain moved from guard to center; Norb Shibinski from guard to tackle; and Tom Weaver from tackle to guard.

Miller was a star soph half two years ago, and has been moved back to the halfback spot to make use of his powerful running. Ken McCally, Art Hartig, and Dick Hammon, three ninth-graders, are scheduled to handle the quarterbacking.

PUNTING, PASSING

Joe Letizia and Art Hartig will do the punting, Coach Augie Morningstar hopes, while Hartig, McCally, Miller, and Dick Harmon will toss the passes.

Clarence Bailey, Ronnie Williams and Bob Ward are scheduled to handle some of the backfield duties, although Coach Morningstar has said he plans to use every man on the squad to get an idea of what developments have been made during the first two weeks of spring football practice.

Coach Morningstar reports the spring drills have been successful, and since the Tygers face a rugged opponent as an opener this fall feels the work was needed to mold a team of his candidates.

HEAVIER SENIORS

Offensive plays have been given to both teams, and the defense of the embryo varrsity team should be tested by the heavier and more experienced seniors.

Quarterbacking the seniors will be Nick Gagich, the cage star who did not play football last season, but who won letters in the grid sport in 1945 and 1946. The only disadvantage the seniors will face will be the lack of substitutes.

Funds from the game will be used to help the spring sports program at Senior high. Bob Kennedy, John Simpson mentor, will coach the seniors.

Probable starting lineups:

Varsity		Seniors
Ed Denman, 178	LE	Don Wyatt,	163
Mike Gruber, 189	LT	Al Paitsch,	178
Jim Miller, 160	LG	H. Gorsuch,	179
J Chamberlain, 145	C	Rus Cline,	166
H. Tipper, 152	RG	L Douville,	154
N Shibinski, 193	RT	Dick Logan,	197
B Weaver 185	RE	Dick Ziegler,	152
Ken McCally, 163	QB	Nick Gagich,	174
Joe Miller, 179	LH	Pat Dailey	166
Joe Letizia, 147	RH	G Dovle	153
Baker Jordan, 179	FB	Jack Brandt,	197

BALL-TOTING EXPERTS—These three fellows will handle a lot of the ball-carrying in tonight's Varsity-Senior spring football game at Stadium field. Joe Miller (left) will do a good share of the Varsity running from the left-half spot in the T formation. The antics of Jack Brandt (running interference) and Nick Gagich will probably feature the Seniors' attack. Gagich won Tyger letters in 1945 and '46 but did not play last fall.—(News-Journal photos by George Petrovic)

Tyger Booster Group Elects New Members

Five new members were elected to the Tyger booster club's board of directors at the group's spring meeting last night at Senior high school.

The new members are: John Schroeder, Sandy Creveling, Bill Daugherty, Luther McCally and Pete Zeides. Holdover members are: Roscoe McGinty, Earl Troll, Sherm Wentz and Don Weaver. New officers of the Tyger club will be elected at a meeting next Tuesday night.

Ed Channell, retiring president, read the treasurer's report of the club last night. The receipts for the 1947-48 season were $1,891.21 and expenditures were $1,837 46 Biggest single expenditures were $455 90 for the band's trip to Sandusky and $247 50 for the football parents' dinner

The Tyger club contributed to the band's trip to Hamilton, tossed a press party before the Ft. Wayne grid game, bought flowers for football homecoming queens, after-game-lunches for football and basketball games, bought fireworks for football games, took the 1947 baseball and track teams to the state meet, etc.

Augie Morningstar and Captain Dick Logan talked on football at last night's meeting and Harry Mehock gave a resume of the Mansfield Relays.

Orioles Charge Indians Violate Option Bargain

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Baltimore Oriole officials are meeting today to decide whether to take their gripes about the Cleveland Indians to Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler.

Oriole Manager Tommy Thomas is all steamed up over what he charged was the second violation by the Cleveland American league team of a working agreement between the two clubs.

He protested to Cleveland President Bill Veeck about the recent deal in which Third Baseman Al Rosen was sent to Kansas City.

The Oriole pilot said the agreement between his International league team and the Indians states clearly that Baltimore has "first claim on any and all players to be optioned" by Cleveland.

Veeck claimed "the only way we could get Pitcher Charlie Wensloff from the New York Yankees was to give Kansas City the use of Rosen on option. Otherwise, Wensloff would have gone to one of two other clubs bidding for him."

Browns Head For Cellar Again

By LEO H. PETERSEN
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK—They'll have two hands, two legs, wear the customary uniforms, use the standard accepted gloves, mitts, balls and bats—but from that point on any resemblance between the St. Louis Browns and a major league baseball team may be purely coincidental.

For the toughest job any major league manager has to face this year falls to Zach Taylor in his first season as a full-fledged pilot in the majors

He has a bunch of youngsters who appear a year or two away from the big time, a group of discarded players who failed in previous big time trials, and only a handful of established major leaguers

STARS MOVE ON

Last season the Browns finished a bad last despite the fact they had such players as Vernon Stephens, Jack Kramer, Johnny Berardino, Ellis Kinder, Bob Muncrief and Walt Judnich. They have all gone on, so from last year's club Taylor has only nine holdovers.

They are Pitchers Nelson Potter, Sam Zoldak, Fred Sanford and Cliff Fannin; Third Baseman Bob Dillinger, Outfielders Paul Lehner, Al Zarilla and Ray Coleman and Catcher John Moss.

Around Dillinger and Lehner, Taylor will have to mould his club. Both are in their sophomore seasons after debuts which stamped them as coming stars.

There's new blood in the Brownies—even though it may be kind of thin

Dillinger will be the only holdover in the infield which will have Chuck Stevens, who hit .279 at Toledo at first base, Gerry Priddy at second and Ed Pellagrini at short.

Sam Dente, who also failed to make good with the Red Sox, and two rookies, Perry Currin, up from Springfield and Andy Anderson are other infield possibilities.

Zarilla has won the right field spot and Lehner the center field post with Pete Layden, the football star, and Mizell Platt, from Toledo battling for the left field post.

Tom Jordan, who was with San Antonio last year, will be the No. 1 catcher with Moss and Roy Partee, another player who failed to make the grade at Boston, in reserve.

Giving the Browns even more of a second Red Sox team complexion will be the presence of Clem Dreisewerd and James Wilson on the pitching staff. Both failed to win regular jobs during their stays in Beantown.

Potter, Zoldak, Sanford and Fannin, the holdovers, figure to be regular starters along with Al Gerheauser, drafted from Montreal, and Bryan Stephens, obtained from the Indians. Three rookies, Ray Shore, Ned Garver and Al Widmar are other hurlers likely to stick

All added up it looks like a tough spring and summer for Taylor and another cellar club for the Browns.

John Simpson Athletes Get Sport Awards

Ninety-six awards were passed out to John Simpson junior high athletes and cheerleaders at a banquet last night at the school.

Coach Bob Kennedy made the awards after speeches by Augie Morningstar, Senior high athletic director and Harold Bruce, vice-president of the board of education.

Simpson won the city championship in football and basketball.

Bengals Lose Drill Contest

Ashland college defeated the Senior high baseball team in an informal scrimmage game yesterday afternoon at Liberty park, 8 to 3

Coach Jimmy Lymper used four pitchers against the Eagles. Of the group, Lou Gregorio and Shelley Swank, both veterans, showed good form. Lefty Dave Marks and Dave Hardy were the other two Tyger tossers.

Swank, who combines his pitching talent with infield work, was the leading batter with four hits in four trips to the plate.
